

Violent Deaths Mount From Storms and Auto Accidents

Heavy Snow, Gusty Winds Hit Area Where Floods Have Marooned Hundreds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Heavy mountain snows and gusty coastal winds lashed the Northern California flood area Sunday at the end of a week of unprecedented torrential rains, adding to the suffering of hundreds still marooned and hampering relief and rescue work.

But the colder weather has put a brake on rivers that had

On the other edge of the continent, new snow blanketed the area from eastern New York to central Maine, and rain and sleet slashed other parts of New England and the Northeast. Up to five inches of snow fell in some sections of the area late Sunday and early today.

Visibility dropped to zero at times in heavy blowing snow in North Dakota Sunday night and motorists were advised to stay home if possible.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 4 below zero at Traverse City, Mich., to 72 at Key West, Fla.

No official estimate of damage was available, but rough guesses by leaders of relief and rescue operations put it at close to $1 billion.

Five hundred persons — minimum — are still marooned in the area.

Crime Wave Hits London At Christmas

LONDON (AP) — London this year experienced one of the most violent Christmas crime waves in memory.

A newspaper reporter, Michael Munnely, 23, was stabbed to death Christmas morning when he tried to stop a gang of youths attacking a man with broken milk bottles. An 18-year-old butcher's assistant was charged with the murder.

Twelve others were arrested for their part in the fray.

A rampaging gang, breaking shop windows as they ran through quiet streets, shot and killed Eric Yethman, 34, a West Indian tailor.

Scotland Yard was investigating other crimes, including an attempt to kill an elderly woman and two gang stabbings.

571 Road Deaths Recorded Over Christmas Weekend

None Reported Killed in Five States; California Leading

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Traffic accidents throughout the nation during the three-day Christmas weekend took at least 571 lives and set yuletide records in several states.

The toll fell short of the 1955 record of 609 deaths, but within the range estimated in advance by the National Safety Council.

The highway deaths occurred in the 78-hour period between 6 p.m. Thursday and midnight Sunday. The council had estimated a toll between 550 and 650.

California had the highest toll of 59 deaths, followed by New York with 39, Michigan 32, Texas 34 and Pennsylvania 32.

Only five states — Alaska, Hawaii, Maine, Montana and Washington — reported no fatalities. In at least five states, holiday accidents helped set new 12-month records.

While traffic deaths mounted at an alarmingly fast pace during the early hours of the holiday period, they slackened off and three others were killed in a smash-up in northern Illinois.

The three Wisconsin deaths plus five other fatalities there in separate accidents, helped set a new 12-month record. The toll in Wisconsin now stands at 1,049 for 1964, well past the previous high of 957 in 1962.

Four other states also have during the closing hours, despite the homeward rush in many areas in fog, rain and snow.

2,000 Rescued From Island Off India

MADRAS, India (AP) — Two Indian navy ships have rescued nearly 2,000 persons marooned on an island off southern India by tidal waves last week.

Officials estimate the death toll at 300, including 115 passengers on a train that was washed away with the railroad bridge to the mainland.

Wisconsin Crash Takes Three Lives

Eight Die in Autos on State Highways During Long Holiday

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Eight persons, including a soldier on leave and his two girl companions, were killed on Wisconsin highways during the Christmas weekend, raising the state's 1964 record toll to 1,048, compared with 896 on this date one year ago.

Army Pvt. Joseph Ponczoch, 22, Helen Kozicki, 17, and Susan Hein, all of Wisconsin Rapids, were killed early Sunday when the car in which they were riding and another auto collided in Wisconsin Rapids. Ponczoch's brother, James, 20, the driver, and Donald Homman, 21, of rural Rudolph, operator of the second car, were hospitalized.

Ferdie J. Zartman, 39, of Beloit was killed early Sunday when his car veered off Interstate Highway 90 and struck a pillar on Highway 15 in Beloit.

Judy Siemers, 18, of rural Marshfield died Sunday when her car and another auto collided on Highway 97 about five miles northeast of Marshfield.

Lucio L. Chisum, 16, of Cedar Grove was killed late Saturday when the car driven by his stepfather, Fabo Ponce, 26, collided with a flat-bed truck which stalled while trying to back into a driveway on Sheboygan

Italy's Fifth President Is A Socialist

ROME (AP) — Foreign Minister Giuseppe Saragat tonight was elected fifth president of Italy. He became the country's first Socialist chief of state, winning with crucial Communist backing on Parliament's 21st ballot in a marathon election.

The 66-year-old Saragat, founder of the Italian Democratic Socialist party, also had the official backing of the Christian Democrat party, the big losers in the unprecedented 13-day election.

Saragat, who had fought communism for years, accepted Red backing to break a deadlock that had paralyzed Parliament and strained the four-party

New Probe Is Brewing On Patents

Some Senators Contend Rights Are Signed Away

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new investigation is brewing in the Senate on charges that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is giving away valuable patent rights which belong to the taxpayers.

Complaints by some Senate and House members picture NASA as signing away to business firms the rights to patents developed at public expense and worth untold millions of dollars. They contend a recent policy change made the situation worse.

James E. Webb, NASA administrator, has countered with a claim that the agency is following federal law and guidelines laid down by President John F. Kennedy shortly before his death.

The patents in question were developed under government-financed research contracts with commercial and other institutions.

A spokesman for a Senate Small Business subcommittee headed by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., told a reporter it will meet shortly after Congress convenes Jan. 4 to consider senatorial requests for an investigation.

Long has been an outspoken critic of the differing patent policies employed by various government agencies under special laws.

Pakistan Charge Denied by India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Defense Ministry spokesmen today denied Pakistan's charge that Indian troops are using American-made weapons in clashes with Pakistani troops along the cease-fire line in Kashmir.

U.S. military aid was granted India in 1962 with the understanding it would not be used against Pakistan.

Giuseppe Saragat

Italy center-left government coalition of Premier Aldo Moro. Long before all the ballots were counted in the 21st voting session, it became clear that Saragat had won.

Foreign Policy to Top of Johnson's Schedule for Today

Loans, Military Aid, Cultural Exchange Under Consideration

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson boosted foreign policy to a top priority spot on his schedule today.

He also planned to get in more work on the federal budget and his State of the Union message.

Associates said Johnson intends to devote considerable time today and during the remainder of the week to reviewing U.S. relations with nations around the world, including policy on loans, aid and cultural exchanges.

A source close to Johnson said he is closing out the year with a rather optimistic view of most of the world situation despite the problems in Viet Nam and Congo.

Fewer Crises

He is known, for example, to feel that relations with the Soviet Union are less antagonistic than they have been at times in the past and sees fewer crises than have plagued the world in recent years.

Johnson to Stress U. S. Resources

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson will stress "achievement of the full potential of our resources" in his State of the Union message.

The message will be delivered to a joint session of Congress at 9 p.m. Jan. 4 — opening day of the new Congress.

To those seeking a clue as to the tone of his State of the Union message, Johnson is referring them to an article he wrote for the 1958 winter issue of the Texas Quarterly when he was Democratic leader of the Senate.

It begins: "I am a free man, an American, a United States senator, and a Democrat at that order."

"I am a liberal, a conservative, a Texan, a taxpayer, a rancher, businessman, a consumer, a parent, a voter, and as young as I used to be nor as old as I expect to be — and I am all these things in no fixed order."

Some excerpts: "First, I believe every American has something to say and, under our system, a right to an audience."

"Second, I believe there is always a national answer to each national problem, and, believing this, I do not believe that there are necessarily two sides to every question."

"Third, I regard achievement of the full potential of our resources — physical, human and otherwise — to be the highest purpose of governmental policies next to the protection of those rights we regard as inalienable."

Malaysia Rejects U. S. Offer of Aid

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysia has rejected an offer of American defense aid in the form of a loan at 2.5 per cent interest, Deputy Prime Minister Abdul Razak said today.

However, Razak told the House of Representatives his government will accept another U.S. offer to train military personnel.

A team of U.S. defense officials flew here last month to negotiate a package deal covering a loan to help purchase jets and other planes and training for the men to fly them. Details of the negotiations had been kept secret until now.

Razak said the U.S. loan offer also called for repayment in full to seven years. It was understood Malaysia is seeking a long-term no-interest loan.

There was no immediate comment from the U.S. Embassy.

Malaysia Halts Its Anti-Guerrilla Patrol

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Antiguerilla operations in southwest Malaysia have been called off following the breakup of the latest band of armed Indonesian invaders.

A government spokesman said a 50-mile stretch, considered the most likely site for further Indonesian landings, was being kept under dusk-to-dawn curfew.

Negotiators at Crucial Stage

U. S., Soviet U. N. Showdown Nearing

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Negotiators at the United Nations reached a crucial stage today in their efforts to head off a Soviet-U.S. showdown over Russian refusal to pay peacekeeping assessments.

The negotiators hoped to work out some agreement before the assembly convened Dec. 1. All necessary business has been done by general consent. Diplomatic sources, said however, after Thursday — New Year's Eve — unless agreement is reached on the basic issue or unless two disputed council seats are filled without a vote so as to avoid a challenge of the Soviets' right to vote.

Refused to Pay — The Soviet Union has refused to pay assembly assessments to finance the Congo and Middle East peacekeeping operations because it contends the Security Council alone has the right to start and finance such operations. It is more than two years behind in its total assessments.

The United States says that if a vote on anything is called in the assembly, the Soviet Union must suffer the penalty set out in Article 19 of the U.N. Charter, which states that any member two years behind in assessments shall have no vote in the assembly.

To avoid a showdown, there has been no voting since the assembly convened Dec. 1. All necessary business has been done by general consent. Diplomatic sources, said however, after Thursday — New Year's Eve — unless agreement is reached on the basic issue or unless two disputed council seats are filled without a vote so as to avoid a challenge of the Soviets' right to vote.

There is no problem concerning two of the four seats that became vacant at the end of the year on the 11-nation council. Uruguay and the Netherlands are unopposed candidates for the seats held by Brazil and Norway.

Delegates were hopeful some way would be found to get around Indonesia's demand to be allowed to vote against Malaysia, which is otherwise opposed to replace Czechoslovakia in the assembly, the Soviet Union.

They said Quaison-Sackey had failed to resolve a contest between Jordan and Mali for Morocco's seat. They said Mali had rejected his suggestions that a preliminary informal poll outside the assembly decide which candidate would be elected by acclamation in the assembly.

Jordan's chief delegate Abdul Monem Rifa'i told a reporter that if no agreement could be reached on some informal method by Tuesday he would demand in the assembly that the election be decided before Friday by the usual vote. That would bring on the big-power showdown.

As of New Year's Day, the Soviet Union will have to pay $26,534,236 to avoid being two years behind in its assessments. U.S. chief delegate Adlai E. Stevenson has said the United States would be satisfied with a voluntary contribution from the Soviets, even if it was not specifically earmarked for peacekeeping purposes.

Informed diplomats understood that the United States would agree to a Soviet pledge of about $17 million, covering the part of the larger amount that represents peacekeeping assessments. The other $9.5 million covers regular budget assessments, which the Russians always have paid.

Quaison-Sackey and an Asian-African committee each have devised proposals to pay off the $86 million U. N. peacekeeping deficit with voluntary contributions. The Russians have rejected one proposal because it does not state specifically that Article 19 is to be suspended, and the Americans have rejected the other because it does.

Lawrence Says Wise Words In Democrat's 1960 Meeting

Humphrey Holds
Place Similar to Johnson's Then

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Sometimes it's an informative experience to disregard the method of historians who usually evaluate past occurrences from the standpoint of hindsight, and to try instead to gauge events on the basis of what was being said at the time they actually were taking place.

This correspondent, in doing some research the other day, came across some dispatches he wrote prior to and during the Democratic National Convention in July, 1960, and found in them some comments that seem pertinent today, particularly a quotation from a statement by Lyndon Johnson which reads as if in certain respects he had anticipated history.

The dispatch of July 6, 1960, referred to a statement by Sen. Johnson at a news conference held the week before the convention, in which he had said:

"After July, the bandwagons will be silent. The 'dark horses' will be out to pasture. And we will stand face-to-face with whatever destiny this century holds for us — with one man as our leader, the one man that we choose this year, the one man standing out in front to lead us.

Little Time

"There will be little time to learn this job. We can only anticipate that the next president will be greeted by the treaty of a Russian submarine base in Cuba, less than 100 miles from our shoreline. He will be met by efforts to penetrate internally into the republics of this hemisphere. He will be met by new ultimatums, over Berlin. He will be met by attacks upon the security of American bases throughout the world — by insults to the American flag and embassies abroad — by indignities against our citizens anywhere."

It was a prophecy that came true. For President Kennedy was indeed confronted from the outset of his administration with the threat of Soviet submarine as well as missile bases in Cuba, with a crisis in West Berlin, and with episodes in which insults were hurled at the American flag at embassies and legations in different parts of the world.

But one of the most interesting excerpts of a prophetic nature was quoted in this correspondent's dispatch of July 20, 1960. It reported that, when word was being passed around the convention hall that Lyndon Johnson had accepted Mr. Kennedy's offer of the vice-presidential nomination, a close adviser of the Texas senator approached this correspondent and said:

"I know you will be surprised about this, but last night several of us had a talk with Sen. Johnson and discussed very frankly what we were up against. Bear in mind that the labor leaders fought Johnson for the top place on the ticket, and they don't like him. Bear in mind that Jack Kennedy will make a campaign on virtually a socialistic platform. He may be less radical if elected, but he will be plenty radical in the campaign. What is that going to do to us in the South during the coming session of congress and later on?"

"Restraining Influence"

"Well, many of us in the Johnson camp felt he just had to get in there and exercise a restraining influence. If elected, Lyndon Johnson will have considerable power inside the senate, just as he has had as majority leader."

"I tell you his influence will be exerted toward safe and sane policies, and he will be in there

Viet Cong Claims Support of People

BY MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Leaders of the rebel Viet Cong claim the guerrillas fighting the government of South Viet Nam control three-fourths of the country and more than half the people as the year nears an end.

Chairman Nguyen Huu Tho made the claim in a statement to the ruling Politburo of the Viet Cong Central Committee. The statement would be difficult to challenge.

He added that the balance of forces was shifting in favor of the Viet Cong, and this, too, coincides with available information on the Saigon side.

On Dec. 20, 1960, when the Viet Cong formally organized itself, the guerrillas had at most 2,000 men under arms, opposing national armed forces of some 400,000. Today, Viet Cong strength is estimated at around 120,000 against a government force of some 615,000 men under arms, including police. Although the government still holds the numerical edge, its ratio is worse.

Set Off Too Much
Each time during the past four years that the government has sought to wipe out the guerrillas in some given area, Saigon has bitten off more than it could chew. The mobility provided U.S. troop-carrying helicopters has helped, but not enough.

Saigon and its Washington ally spent tens of millions of dollars in 1963 on a project called "Operation Sunrise," aimed at cleaning out a key Viet Cong base area 30 miles north of here.

The operation was a nearly complete failure, and the Viet Cong now is stronger in the area than ever.

Later in 1962 and 1963, the government and U.S. advisers launched the nationwide "strategic hamlet program," aimed at bringing one community after another under government control.

Looked Encouraging

Until President Ngo Dinh Diem was overthrown in a military coup Nov. 1, 1963, the statistics from this program looked encouraging. But U.S. officials found at that point that only a very small fraction of the hamlets supposedly pacified were really in operation.

Then came Premier Nguyen Khanh's "pacification plan" in February. It concentrated on only 13 provinces in the Mekong River Delta. But even this concentration proved inadequate.

Three months ago, the area was whittled down to five provinces, all suburbs of Saigon, to be pacified under the "Hoc Tap" — cooperation — plan. To help out, most of the 25th Division was pulled out of central Viet Nam for service in the Hoc Tap area.

Since then, central Viet Nam — roughly the northern half of the republic — has deteriorated at an alarming rate, at least partly because of increased Communist infiltration in the area. And the delta and suburbs of Saigon, the key targets of the new government program, show little if any sign of improvement.

While the Viet Cong apparently has had no difficulty maintaining a united drive against the government, Saigon has been beset with constant political upheavals and coups, leaving its base of military resistance in chaos much of the time.

By all appearances, the war is being lost.

Group Sees Increase In Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP) — An easing of the rate of business expansion in the last half of 1965 could cause unemployment to begin climbing again.

This warning light was flashed Sunday by the National Planning Association, a privately supported research organization.

The organization said higher prices would cut into some of the 1965 growth but it did not observe any signs of a hazard from rampaging inflation.

Woman's Body Found by Police In Missouri

NEOSHO, Mo. (AP) — The mutilated body of a 62-year-old woman was pulled from a deep well Sunday and police are holding her 70-year-old husband for questioning.

Josie Scribner had been reported missing by her husband, Floyd, on Dec. 5.

The well is about 100 yards from a house where the Scribners formerly lived. It is hidden in deep brush.

The body was in four pieces at the bottom of a 25-foot well. There was about eight inches of water in the well.

Silver Tinsel Ball Highlights Weekend

Satin snowflakes adorned with Christmas roses decorated the tree and hung from a holiday ceiling at the Conway Hotel Saturday evening as guests of the Silver Cross Circle of The King's Daughters attended their annual Silver Tinsel Ball. The gala charity party, held the day after Christmas, was attended by several hundred people, and success was measured by the crowded dance floor and the gaiety of party-goers.

The event began with a cocktail party in the Seaway Suite at 8 p.m. By 9:30, guests were dancing in the Four Seasons Room and thoroughly enjoying the post-Christmas frolic.

Mrs. George Petersen was chairman of the Ball, whose proceeds will be slated for the Circle's pledge to Appleton Memorial Hospital and other civic projects. She was assisted by Mrs. Ron C. Smith as co-chairman, and committee heads Mrs. Jack Brauer, Mrs. R. Barton Hammond, Mrs. Clifford Was h b u r n, Mrs.

Richard Allen, Mrs. William Hatch, Mrs. Philip Retson and Mrs. Howard Whitehead.

Sheinwold Villain Is Recognized By Cards

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

In the old-fashioned melo- drama you could always recognize the villain because he was the man who wore a mustache. Bridge would be easier if the same principle applied; as things are you have to think to spot the villain.

West opened the king of diamonds, and East dropped the jack to signal for a continua- tion. South ruffed the next diamond and drew two rounds of trumps with dummy's queen and jack. West discarded a diamond on the second round of trumps, and declarer winced slightly.

The time had come to sort out the actors, an easy task for the declarer in this case J. Lawrence Block, who played the South cards, could not have become the most successful reallor in Beverly Hills if he needed a mustache to recognize the villain.

Block led a club from dummy and allowed East to hold the trick with the queen of clubs. East might do his best to look ugly, but he was no villain and could do no harm.

Returns Trump East returned a trump, still hoping that declarer would slip. Block won, led a heart to dummy, and returned another club. When East played the king of clubs declarer once more played low from the South hand.

This key play left East helpless. He returned a heart, but declarer won, drew the last trump, and cashed the ace of clubs. This set up the ten of clubs and assured the contract. South would go down if he took the ace of clubs too early. This would allow West, the villain of the piece, to gain the lead with the jack of clubs. West would lead a diamond, forcing South to ruff. East would then get a trump trick to defeat the contract.

Your Problems

Real Friends Don't Badger Family of Ill With Questions

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Is it thoughtlessness, stupidity, cruelty, ignorance or just plain nosiness, that makes people ask members of the family, "Was it cancer?"

My father had surgery a few days ago. The surgeon gave us bad news. We expected the worst but still we clung to the hope that all would be well. My mother is heartick and so am I. We are trying to be brave — and silent — but people won't let us. They keep badgering us with questions, pumping us for information.

Yesterday I received six telephone calls, all from people wanting to know details. I've been saying, "We are hoping for the best, "because I don't wish to discuss it further. One caller said, "You might as well face facts. It will be easier later." Another caller said, "My mother died of cancer and I pity you. You'll go through plenty these next few months."

Why do people do this? How shall I deal with them? — Near The Edge

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®. In addition to actually shrinking piles — Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

The Ailing House Here's How To Uncurl Tile Corner

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: We put down an asphalt tile floor in the basement several weeks ago. The corners of about a half dozen tiles have curled up. What is the best way to flatten these down again?

A: Use an electric iron, set for medium heat, to flatten the tiles. The heat will safely soften them and the adhesive.

Husband Works 2,088 Hours

Housewives in Kitchen 2,188 Hours Annually

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might not know if he didn't open his mail: Someone has discovered — or at least claimed — that the average U.S. housewife spends 2,188 hours yearly in the kitchen. Whereas her husband, if he worked a 40-hour week, 52 weeks without vacation, would spend only 2,080 hours on the job. The only conclusion is that it is taking women longer and longer to thaw out those appetizing dinners.

Million Dollars

And if someone gave you a million dollars in one dollar bills, what is the first thing you'd do? Count it, of course. And how long would it take you? Well, on a 40-hour week basis, it would take you seven weeks to find out how rich you were.

History Lesson

History lesson: Can you name the first U.S. president born outside the borders of the first 13 states that made our original Union? He was Abraham Lincoln, born in an area known then, and now, as Kentucky.

Odd legislation: Word has reached me that you can be arrested in Ohio if you seek to cool your feet by sticking them out of the window of a moving automobile.

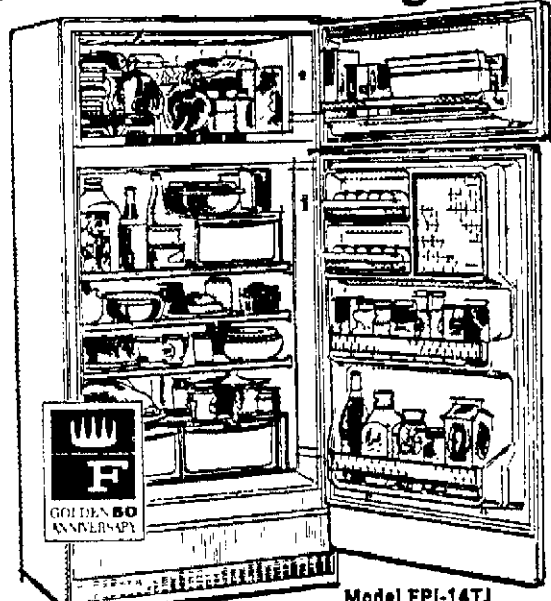

Folklore: only a poor man keeps one dog — a really poor man keeps at least two. Idiots are favored by God. A horsehair put in water will fester into a snake in six weeks. If you meet a barefoot woman as you start on trip, turn back immediately or she will bring bad luck to your journey.

Quotable notables: "Life is a fortress," said Napoleon Bonaparte. Seneca, the Roman seer, said existence was "a state of warfare," and E. B. White described life as "a sentence that beings and ends with a yawn."

The Bible says life is "a vapor University where Miss Vinson that appeared for a little time was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi, then vanisheth away," and Irv. Miss Vinson teaches Spanish at Derby Junior High School, 10 per cent how you make it, Birmingham, Mich. Lt. Jones is and 90 per cent how you take stationed at Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul, Ill.

East Germans Enjoying Remarkable Come-Back

BY PRESTON GROVER

EAST BERLIN (AP) — East Germany's evidence of improvement comes as something of a surprise. For years reports have come out of this oft times secret part of Germany that the factories have remained in semi-ruin northwest of Berlin, around a village named Fahrbride. It was, of course, a model and the manager, Friedrich Rickmann, conceded with an amiable grin that a fair number of correspondents were directed to it. When the government in 1960 forced every farmer into these supervised farm groups, there were many cruel scenes. Today, strictly private farming is ended in East Germany. Unacceptable. Yet it is unlike the missive collectivization in the Soviet Union Rickmann said German farmers never would accept that. Rickmann united his group before the big drive in 1960. It allows a certain amount of private farming. Thirty families pooled 1,400 acres. Of this, 200 acres are in forest, 500 acres in pasture, and the balance not very good farm land. Before they pooled their land the bigger farmers, the with 100 to 150 acres and little machinery, couldn't do all their own work. Smaller farmers, beginning with 1948 I have with only 10 or 12 acres, couldn't earn a living. So, two years it was and still is a pushed a little they came to a place compared with geither West Berlin.

Owa Title

The farmers still hold title to the other their land and get rent from it. What from the cooperative, but Rickmann worked it out shrewdly so everybody has to work. No one lives on land rentals. First off, the bigger farmers had to sell brooms. They also like to live much of their land to the small-farmers or to farm workers do so in East Germany after a long pause following the war. Each worker in a family could keep about 35 acres of farm land. In addition 19 of the 30 families have some private pasture land for on which they raise pigs and cattle. Most of the livestock belongs to the individual farmers.

Every farmer must work 210 days a year or he gets no rental as a guide. I headed 175 miles payment for his land. For his was collectivized, because good farmers lost interest in land they didn't own. It is hard to get solid information about present conditions. You don't get to see the suffering farmers in these Communist countries.

Yet wherever we drove — and we crisscrossed the country north and south, east and west — the land looked well farmed and the villages comfortably prospering. The wood lots were right up to the tree trunks. That, however, is due to Germany, not to collectivization. It is that way in West Germany. After the five years I have spent in the Soviet Union, where villages are pretty somber affairs, I found East German villages looking strangely prosperous and solid, although not rich.

What I saw on the trip indicates that East Germany is getting away from its agricultural background and becoming more industrialized. I visited two impressive new shipyards in the north, one at Wismar and another at Stralsund, and a new and expanding harbor at Rostock, all on the Baltic.

I toured the new oil city of Schwedt and the new iron city of Eisenhuettenstadt. These are brand new projects.

Dependence

Jointly with the shipyards, which is working. I ran into them they showed how greatly East Germany depends on the Soviet Union. About 75 per cent of the ships built at the two yards are sold to the Soviet Union — passenger ships, river boats, and senger ships, river boats, and manager. "but they have less to deep-sea trawlers that range the worry about We do the worry-seven seas.

Schwedt, on the Oder River, I heard of still other cases just across from Poland, gets where hardships were real, and all its oil from the Soviet production fell off when the land "Friendship" pipeline.

Israel, Jordan In Border Clash

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli and Jordanian forces clashed twice this morning in the central sector of the Jordan-Israel frontier, an Israeli army spokesman said.

He said a Jordanian advance position east of Budreus opened fire with light weapons on an Israeli patrol, who returned the fire.

The second clash occurred east of Kafir Kasem, the spokesman said.

No Israeli casualties were reported.

American Can to Remove Planes at Winnebago Port

Termination to be About Jan. 10
In Company Move to Efficiency

NEENAH — Aircraft operations of the American Can Co. at the Winnebago County Airport will be terminated about Jan. 10, officials of the firm announced in New York today. The move is part of the program to effect additional operating efficiencies, officials said. In January all of American's air transportation services, including aircraft maintenance, will be provided from a similar facility the company operates at White Plains, N.Y.

Leased Wire
American's combination hangar and maintenance shop at Oshkosh has been the base for one of the company's two Grumman Gulf Stream turbo-prop passenger planes. The company plans to dispose of a third aircraft, a Convair, which has been based at White Plains. Factors which contributed to feasibility of this move were stepped-up commercial air service and improved leased wire telephone communications between the company's office and manufacturing locations.

Began in 1950
Marathon Corp. operated out of the Winnebago County airport since 1950, at one time basing three smaller planes there. The company planes provided direct flights to company mills and projects in California, Canada, the South and the East. Marathon purchased its hangar from the county in 1955 and later enlarged it. An annual rental fee was paid to the county, amounting to approximately $500.

After Marathon was acquired by American Can Co. in 1957, airplane operations were continued at both White Plains and the Winnebago County port.

Little Chute Crash Injures One Saturday

LITTLE CHUTE — icy roads were listed as the cause for two accidents here Saturday, one resulting in personal injury.

Mrs. Donald McPhail, 33, 101 E. 17th St., Kaukauna, suffered a laceration on her forehead and was treated by a physician and released after her car left State 96 about 1:45 p.m.

She told police she lost control of her car on a patch of ice and left the road, striking a tree and flagpole. Over $1,000 damage was reported to the car.

Extensive damage resulted to cars driven by Earl M. Green, 22, route 2, Kaukauna, and Frank Islinger, 36, 1831 S. Jefferson St., Appleton, about 7:45 p.m. at Grand Avenue and McKinley Street.

Islinger told police that when he attempted to stop for an arterial on Grand Avenue he skidded on ice into the intersection, colliding with the Green car going west on McKinley.

Cambodia Expects Weapons Aid From Communist China

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk has repeated a previous announcement that Communist China will give Cambodia sufficient weapons to equip 22,000 men.

Sihanouk spoke Sunday to a national political congress, reviewing events of the past several months.

He said that Peking had promised light and heavy armament for Cambodia, but he gave no indication of when it would be received. Sihanouk first announced this Chinese military visit to Peking.

Help With Forecasting

Atmospheric Tides Found by Scientists

BY FRANK CAREY

MONTREAL, Quebec (AP) — New evidence was reported today that capricious tides in the atmosphere — caused by the same moon and sun which produce oceanic tides — may affect the world's weather.

A U.S. Weather Bureau scientist who reported this indicated that whereas high tide at the beach is the best time for seaside fun, high tide in the wide blue yonder may be a good time to get out your umbrella.

Meteorologist Glenn W. Briertold about it in a report to the 131st meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He amplified his report at a news conference and said an examination of U.S. weather records for more than 60 years was involved.

Not Be Liable
He and meteorologist Max A. Woodbury of New York University, who collaborated on some of the research, stressed that their concept — even if proved — could not reliably forecast day-to-day rainfall.

They voiced confidence, however, that their reasoning is sound and said the theory could offer a means of forecasting periods of exceptionally heavy rainfall, at least in the United States.

Briertold that all the evidence suggests that there are tides-within-tides in the atmosphere. Each of three listed by him depends upon the relative positions of the sun, moon and earth in a given lunar month of slightly more than 29 days.

The atmospheric tides shape up something like this:

1. A main one that apparently sailors and their dependents at the Subic Bay naval base today. Hope is scheduled to play nine holes of golf at Clark Air Base Tuesday and then put on another show. The group leaves for reception from 10,000 American peaks near the middle of the first and third weeks of the lunar month — especially on the third to fifth days after both the new and full moons, when the sun, moon and earth are lined up on a straight line.

The studies showed there is a marked tendency for extreme precipitation to occur in North America at those times. The effect is heightened when the moon, in its orbit around the earth, is at perigee — that is, closest to the earth.

2. A lesser force that apparently acts when the moon's individual tidal forces are at a maximum at the particular time in a solar day most favorable for precipitation on earth.

Favorable Time
The most favorable time for rainfall for the United States as a whole is about 3 a.m. solar time, with 5 p.m. as runner-up. So, if the moon is in the right position, rain would be even more likely.

3. Still another lunar-solar tidal relationship that appears to be associated especially with relatively rare, exceptionally heavy rainfall.

Briertold that he and his associates have no beliefs that the atmospheric tides actually cause rainfall.

He said the theory is that the tidal forces, when a their strongest, act as a triggering "last straw" mechanism to make a naturally developing weather occurrence take place sooner — or perhaps later in some cases.

Real Estate Tax Bills Sent Out in Appleton

20,266 Statements Mailed; 698 More Than in 1963

Real estate and personal property tax bill — 20,266 of them—were mailed out today to Appleton property owners.

The bills, an increase of 698 over 1963, were prepared by members of the city finance department staff in recent weeks.

However, mailing "honors" went to the city treasurer's staff which will be making the collections.

Personnel in most city hall departments were assisting with stuffing the bills into envelopes this morning.

Included in the stack of bills delivered to the post office this afternoon for delivery Tuesday and Wednesday were 18,552 real estate and 1,714 personal property statements.

Preparing Bills

Treasurer Ray Feuerstein said some members of his staff worked over the weekend preparing the bills for mailing.

The net tax rate being paid by Appleton residents in Outagamie County is $46.16 per assessed $1,000 valuation, the figure being arrived at after the applying the $3.50 state sales tax credit. The gross tax rate is $50.06.

Residents in the Calumet County portion of Appleton have a net rate of $45.18 after subtracting the $5.21 credit. The gross rate is $50.39.

Feuerstein said his office would be making year-end tax collections Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

1964 Payment

"Mailed remittance postmarked before midnight Thursday will be accepted as 1964 payments," Feuerstein said.

Many property owners pay their taxes before the end of the year so they can take the deduction when filing 1964 income tax returns.

"Should anyone receive a tax bill that does not belong to them, it should be returned to our office immediately," Feuerstein said.

Persons wishing to pay their taxes in full at one time have until Feb. 28 to do so.

The other alternative is paying on the installment plan, the payments due Jan. 31, April 30 and July 31.

Feuerstein said regular collection hours will be from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. His office will not be open Saturdays.

The Appleton gross tax rate broken down: State, 39 cents; county, $6.95; city schools, $29.85; vocational school, $1.28; and city purposes only, $11.92.

naturally developing weather occurrence take place sooner — or perhaps later in some cases.

City Hall Remains

Two of Three Steps Completed in Menasha City-Owned Facilities

NEENAH — Two, of three steps proposed for improvement of city owned facilities has been completed.

A new police station and a new central fire station are in operation. The final contemplated step, a new city hall is the only remaining project.

A survey and report was prepared by the architectural firm, Shattuck Siewert and Associates, in 1956, citing requirements of city administrators and advising whether the needs could best be met by remodeling and adding to the present city hall or by building a new structure.

The report showed all departments are cramped for working space and lack room for files and equipment. There are no conference rooms for informal meetings of the council, committees and civic organizations; sanitary facilities are inadequate; there is an excessive amount of stair climbing to reach the offices; fire hazard is inherent in a structure having wooden floors and roof structure.

Police Still Seek Leads In Theft

MENASHA — Police still are seeking leads in the theft of between $2,300 and $2,500 from Stani's Shop-Rite supermarket, 500 Appleton Road, during the noon hour Thursday.

The money had been kept in a cash box in an open safe in the store office toward the rear of the building. The theft was discovered by the store owner, Harry Stanislawski about 1:30 p.m. The empty cashbox was found in a restroom near the office.

The money was made up of $10, $5 and $1 bills and quarters and half-dollars in change, police said.

North Central College Choir Will Perform 3 Concerts in Twin Cities

NEENAH-MENASHA — North Central College Choir of Naperville, Ill., will be performing two concerts of classical, sacred songs and hymns here in January.

The chorus will perform at 1:50 p.m. Jan. 12 in Menasha High School and at 7:30 p.m. that same day in First EUB Church, Neenah.

The chorus also will perform at 10 a.m. Jan. 11 in Neenah High School.

Paul Gutknecht a tenor from Clintonville, will be one of the soloists.

ture, vault or fireproof storage space is inadequate, the report said.

General Office
Suggested requirements for city offices would include a general office for staff personnel for the clerk and treasurer, machine room for accounting machines and storage vaults, with a private office for both the clerk and the treasurer. The water department would include a general office and a private office for the superintendent. The assessor's office would have a general office and a private room for the assessor and an office for assistant.

The public works office would require general office and a drafting room and a private office for the director.

The mayor's office would require secretarial space and a private office for the mayor.

CORE Says Contested Mississippi Election Top Congress Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Congress of Racial Equality today labeled the contested election last month of five Mississippi representatives as the "No. 1 item of business" facing the 89th Congress.

In endorsing the election challenge initiated by the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party, James Farmer, national director of CORE, said "this is not a frivolous gesture. We're in dead earnest."

He said the 200 CORE chapters have been urged to ask their congressmen "to take a firm stand on the challenge." By this, Farmer said he meant a vote favoring a resolution to block the swearing in of any House members from Mississippi until the challenge is resolved.

"We will try to see that no congressman will be able to hide behind anonymity," Farmer said. "We will ask a roll-call vote."

Rep. William F. Ryan, D-N.Y., has promised to introduce the resolution on Jan. 4, the day Congress convenes.

council and civic groups and city staff officers was recommended. A smaller conference room seating 12 for work by city officers and civic groups also was recommended. Council chambers for formal meetings of the council completed the special room requirements.

Rentable office space also was suggested for the building, for such organizations as the Red Cross, Chamber of Commerce, welfare agencies, community chests and other civic organizations.

Cost estimates of the building, believed adequate to the year 2000, were $276,000, according to the architects. The estimated cost of renovating the present structure is $197,000, a difference of $79,000.

New Facilities
The city moved into its police station at Walnut Street and Doty Avenue in 1960. Cost of the building was $200,000.

In the development plan a fire station was proposed at the southeast corner of Commercial Street and Columbia Avenue. When the fire station building plans were initiated, the city was unable to obtain the proposed site, Roney Hauser, city clerk said. Price of the land was too high, he said.

The fire station then was constructed at the northwest corner of Walnut and Columbia at a cost of $250,000. Operations began in the new quarters Nov. 20.

Stricter Rules Hike Nursing Home Fees

Brown County Welfare Director Explains Higher Patient Care Fees

Welfare costs in nursing homes are rising because the Wisconsin Board of Health has laid down stricter rules, according to Brown County Welfare Director John Wood.

The state board of health now requires all county homes to have registered or practical nurses on duty at all times.

Aside from this, the minimum wage is up from 85 cents an hour to $1.15 and fees in Brown County for nursing home care have been below the average state level for "an area our size," said Wood.

The Brown County Board of Public Welfare recently adopted a compromise schedule of fees for nursing home care of persons under county support programs.

According to the new schedule, the fees would be $140 monthly for minimum care, $185 for medium care and $200 for maximum care. Nursing home operators had requested from $180 to $330 monthly.

Present Rates

Existing rates range from $115 to $150 monthly.

The Guardian Angel Home owned by the county and leased by John Pennings, charges $115-$140 for personal care, $130-$185 for limited care and $150-$200 for bed care.

"We try to keep the rates the same as the county," Pennings said.

At the new Guardian Angel Home, north of here on State 57, the personal care rate is $180, or $6 daily; medicated care rate is $210, or $7 daily, and skilled care rate is $240, or $8 daily.

Pennings said personal care includes cases not requiring medication (although the cost depends on the condition of the patient), limited care includes prescribed medicine and skilled care requires oxygen, shots or similar treatments.

Rates at the new Grancare Nursing Home, located at Dousman Street and Military Avenue, range from $270 to $360 per month, or $9-$12 on a prorated basis, for semi-private rooms.

Private rooms range from $420-$450 per month, pro-rated $14-$15 per day.

Special Therapies

Director Donald Idzik said Grancare provides skilled nursing services by Wisconsin registered nurses and rehabilitation services, including physical, occupational and speech therapies.

The board of welfare has asked the county board to authorize a study of whether a county-operated nursing home is needed because of the increasing costs.

A study made two years ago by a citizens committee will be brought up to date if necessary, because of the increasing case load and costs. The updating comes at the request of the welfare department.

The report was prepared as a guide for developing a comprehensive program of care needed by aged and chronically ill persons in Brown County.

Wood said there are about 15 nursing homes in the area. A total of 166 persons in these homes are part of the county support programs.

Out of County

"Some are even scattered around out of the county because homes in the area are filled," Wood explained.

The citizens committee report encouraged a non-profit corporation or corporations and assistance in developing a multi-purpose institutional unit providing both personal care and skilled nursing care to patients who must be institutionalized.

The report stated that unless one or more such facilities exist, hospitals and physicians will be reluctant to discharge patients no longer requiring costly hospital services but who cannot be taken care of at home.

Continued efforts to upgrade the quality of service and the environments of nursing homes through state regulation and the efforts of the Nursing Home Assistance itself were also stressed by the committee.

Flying Grandfather Max Conrad flashes a big smile as he landed in New Orleans Sunday after setting a long distance flight record for small planes on Saturday. Conrad flew from Capetown, South Africa, to St. Petersburg, Fla., non-stop to claim an excess of the 7,688-mile non-stop record for light planes. His original destination was New Orleans but the 61-year-old pilot decided to land at St. Petersburg when he thought he was running low on fuel. Also, Kenneth Youngchild, a nephew, $5,120; Howard Youngchild, a nephew, $5,120; Leonard E. Smith, a brother-in-law, $5,568, and Gladys Weinfurter, no relation, $5,684.

Costs for the Youngchild estate was $123,665, including federal taxes of $28,444 and $26,144 for administration.

Youngchild donated $1 million to Lawrence University before his death on March 9, 1964. The money was used to build the Casper E. Youngchild Hall of Science.

3 Injured in Fiery Crash At Clintonville

Car Bursts Into Flame After Mishap On Christmas Eve

CLINTONVILLE — The Clintonville Volunteer Fire Department was called at 6:20 p.m. Christmas Eve to extinguish a fire which resulted from a two-car accident in which three persons were injured just west of here on U.S. 45.

The car driven by Gordon H. Meyer, Jr., 28, Milwaukee, was struck in the rear by a car driven by Harlan Radtke, Marion, near the Lake Shore Motel driveway. Both vehicles were traveling east, police said.

Meyer received head injuries. Joyce Meyer, 27, a passenger in the Meyer car received bruises, and Allen Radtke, a passenger in the Radtke car, received cuts.

Both cars were listed as total losses by the investigating county patrolman.

Accidental SOS Sends Rescue Team

MINOT, N.D. (AP) — An Air Force helicopter crew spotted an SOS in the snow at a farm. An Air Force snow vehicle carried sheriff's men to the farm where the surprised owners, bachelor brothers William and Olaf Jorgenson, assured the would-be rescuers they had no problems.

Chance had formed snow some farm implements and patches of bare ground into an SOS.

State AFL-CIO Has Endorsed Reynolds

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Wisconsin State AFL-CIO Sunday endorsed Gov. John W. Reynolds for appointment as federal judge in the state's western District.

The labor organization's officials sent telegrams urging appointment of Reynolds to building program.

President Johnson, Wisconsin's Democratic congressional delegation and George Meany, national AFL-CIO president, Plans call for the group to set up committees to work with federal charities and other groups in the community. One such project, according to Drexler, is Navarino home. Her throat had been slashed. DeKeyser was arrested at his place of employment in Green Bay after an investigation indicated he had been with Mrs. Figlinski in Seymour taverns the night before. He is being held on $15,000 bond.

Valley Heart Disease Death Average Is High

Special to the Post-Crescent

NEW YORK—Heart disease is responsible for 59 per cent of all deaths in four counties of the Fox Valley area, United States country. The ultimate cost Public Health Service figures would be around $80 million a year.

This is above the national. Because strokes take 200,000 regional, and state averages. Each county is individually and afflict ten times that number of people, the problem above average.

The highest percentage in the is considered urgent. The dis-fur-county area is in Waupaca ease accounts for 56.3 per cent County, where 258 deaths attrib-uted to heart mortality were 57 per cent of 417 total deaths for a central states, and 57.4 per cent 61.9 percentage.

Other figures included Calu-met County, 121 out of 201 for 60.2 per cent; Winnebago Coun-ty, 576 out of 971 for 59.3 per cent, and Outagamie County, 434 out of 759 for 57.2 per cent.

Deaths resulting from strokes included 56 in Waupaca, 26 in Calumet, 92 in Winnebago and 80 in Outagamie.

WAUPACA—A new brochure describing the Waupaca and Chain O' Lakes area has now been completed and is ready for distribution.

The new multi-colored brochure will replace the old style folder which has been used for H. Stordock, secretary of the Waupaca Association of Commerce.

The brochure lists many of the points of interest of the area and a map showing all of the Chain O' Lakes.

All tourists who send inquiries to the association will receive one of the brochures and many of the resort owners are distrib-uting them to their customers. Copies also will be distributed next summer at the information center on the courthouse square.

Seymour Man's Trial Date to be Set After Jan. 4

Post-Crescent News Service

SHAWANO — The date for the trial of Leon DeKeyser, 30, C. Prange building basement, on a charge of second degree murder in the death of Mrs. Violet Figlinski will be set after Jan. 4 when a new Shawano County district attorney takes office.

Shawano County Judge Kenneth Traeger who will hear the case said there is little point in setting a date until the district attorney who will prosecute the case takes over.

Lloyd Andrews will succeed Michael Eberlein as district attorney. DeKeyser was re-turned to Shawano County jail about a month ago from Central State Hospital at Waupun where he had been sent for observa-tion. He has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

DeKeyser was arrested Sept. 22 after Mrs. Figlinski's body was found in a ditch by a school bus driver near her rural home. Navarino home. Her throat had been slashed. DeKeyser was arrested at his place of employ-ment in Green Bay after an investigation indicated he had been with Mrs. Figlinski in Sey-mour taverns the night before. He is being held on $15,000 bond.

Johnson Seeks to Fill Sub-Cabinet Posts

President, Happy With Main Body

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is reported satisfied with his Cabinet for now but is looking for some new faces for sub-Cabinet ranks.

That was the word Sunday from a source close to the President, as Johnson instructed his talent scouts to look both within and outside the government for men and women qualified for high-level jobs.

Although "there will be plenty of exceptions," the source said, "a good number" of the resignations formally submitted by undersecretaries and assistant secretaries at the beginning of a new administration will be accepted by the President.

Among the exceptions are two men Johnson is known to think well of — Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

Promote Men

The President hopes to promote men from within government service — as he did Saturday by promoting William J. Driver from deputy administrator to veterans administrator.

Johnson plans to announce soon his choice for deputy attorney general — a job that has been vacant since Nicholas Katzenbach became acting attorney general Sept. 3. Still unanswered is whether Katzenbach will become permanent attorney general.

Johnson already has decided on how to fill at least one of two vacant undersecretaryships in the Treasury. He is withholding the announcement until a routine security check is completed.

Reports Wrong

The source said reports that former Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell Gilpatrick will replace John A. McCone as director of the Central Intelligence Agency are wrong. The source said Johnson has never had any indication that McCone may be leaving the job.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon reportedly is anxious to return to private life. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges resigned Dec. 16 and Johnson named John T. Connor to take his place.

Philippine Base Restrictions Off

MANILA (AP) — American servicemen were allowed out of Clark Air Base today after a weekend of restrictions imposed by the U.S. Air Force because of a protest rally in the nearby town of Angeles.

Some speakers at the rally Sunday urged removal of U.S. military bases from the Philippines and the recall of U.S. Ambassador William McCormick Blair Jr. There was no violence.

The rally, attended by about 2,000 Filipinos, was called to protest the killing of two Filipino trespassers by guards on U.S. bases and Blair's charge that two Filipinos had tried to bomb an American school at Clark.

Lion's Owner Says He Will Fight Law Banning Wild Pet

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP) — The deadline passed Sunday for Leo the lion to leave town. But Howard Sauter's pet still was in his heated quarters today.

Abington Township's commissioners recently passed an ordinance banning wild animals as pets. The ordinance was inspired by objections of some of Sauter's neighbors. They complained that Leo made them nervous.

Sauter said that when he receives formal notice from the township asking why Leo is still around, he will turn the matter over to his attorneys.

Sauter argues that Leo is harmless and looks harmless as lions go.

"Just because one man kills somebody, you don't outlaw all people," Sauter said. "So why should my lion go?"

Government Forces Take Major Viet Cong Post in Sunday Fighting

BY JAMES PICKERELL

EDITORS NOTE — Freelance photographer James Pickerell, wounded by the Viet Cong in November, was assigned by The Associated Press to accompany Vietnamese troops who overran a major Viet Cong guerrilla position Sunday. Here is his report.

By JAMES PICKERELL

DAI NGAI, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces overran a major Viet Cong position Sunday, killing at least 67 guerrillas and capturing 10 others as well as a large stock of weapons.

It was one of the most significant government successes in the past year. U.S. officers believed that the position, 75 miles southwest of Saigon, was a Viet Cong zone command headquarters. The Communists have divided South Viet Nam into seven zones.

The government forces suffered 11 dead and 42 wounded. Among the wounded were seven U.S. Army helicopter crewmen hit by small arms fire.

(Ten other Americans were reported wounded in other actions in the Mekong delta Sunday. Two were reported in serious condition.)

Christmas Present

Capt. Robert W. Butler of Frederick, Md., who went into action at Dai Ngai, said of the government success: "This is as good a Christmas present as I could have wished for."

A radio he had carried on his back was smashed by a machine-gun bullet. He was not hurt.

The attack began when militiamen in the ricefield hamlet beside the Mekong River called for help after exchanging fire with the guerrillas.

Thirty-six helicopters, half of them armed with rockets and heavy machine guns, dropped on top of the Viet Cong position, discharging two battalions in seven quick waves. Air force planes poured bombs and cannon fire into the area. About 650 government troops took part.

Viet Cong strength was estimated at two battalions under the command of a major general. It was not known whether he was among the dead.

Couple Found Dead in Apartment On City's West Side

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A Navy chief petty officer and his wife, married Dec. 19 after a whirlwind romance, were found shot to death Sunday in their blood-spattered honeymoon apartment on Milwaukee's West Side.

The county medical examiner's office listed the deaths of Roger W. Garde, 39, and his wife, Shirley, 36, as "apparent murder-suicide." They had been dead since Tuesday.

Investigators said that Garde apparently shot his wife in the back as she slept and then turned the .44 calibre rifle on himself, firing a bullet into his head.

Found by Relatives

The bodies were found by relatives and two members of the Navy's shore patrol, who broke into the apartment after failing to contact the couple. Mrs. Garde, dressed in a nightgown, was in a sleeping position in bed. Her husband was on the floor with the rifle under his legs.

Garde, a native of Orfordville, Wis., and his wife, the mother of a 6-year-old daughter by a former marriage, met after he was transferred from the Great Lakes, Ill., Naval Station to take charge of the shore patrol office at the Milwaukee Safety Building Oct. 5.

She was working as a volunteer with the Rev. Joel Dobbe, a court chaplain, when Garde came to Milwaukee. She later took a position as a legal secretary with the county.

Seen Together

Mr. Dobbe said that he often saw Garde and the former Mrs. Haas together "but did not realize that anything serious was going on until a couple of weeks ago when she came to my office and invited me to her wedding."

Chief Petty Officer William Foster said that Garde spent most of the time "talking about Shirley." Foster added that Garde planned to retire from the Navy in June and "settle down" in Janesville, Wis.

Mrs. Garde's daughter was left in the care of the bride's parents in Milwaukee after the wedding.

Miller Says He Won't Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the Republican vice presidential nominee this year, is willing to serve the GOP in any capacity — except as a candidate for elective office.

Miller said in a radio interview on Storer Broadcasting Company's "Report to the People," Saturday that he planned to practice law in his hometown of Lockport, N.Y., and in Buffalo, N.Y.

Viet Cong strength was estimated at two battalions under the command of a major general. It was not known whether he was among the dead.

Fighting Continues

Government troops were still recovering bodies today as sporadic fighting continued.

The heavy Communist casualties were attributed partly to a new type of fuse on the government's bombs. These burst in the air and scatter shrapnel over a wide area.

Vietnamese officers speculated that the Communists had been massing for an attack and were caught off guard.

Captured weapons included five 50-caliber machine guns, three recoilless cannons and three mortars.

In the town of Mo Cai, 30 miles southwest of Saigon, a Viet Cong grenade exploded in a cafe, wounded four Americans and 15 Vietnamese and killed a 12-year-old Vietnamese girl.

One of the Americans, Van Bucher, the son of Jules N. Bucher of the U.S. Aid mission in Saigon, was reported in critical condition. Bucher is in his early 20s.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, commander of the Vietnamese forces, issued a holiday message of thanks to U.S. forces in South Viet Nam. The message warmed a little the chilly relations between Khanh and U.S. authorities in Saigon.

Priest Exiles Self as Racial 'Silence' Protest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest says he is going into "self-imposed exile" from the Los Angeles archdiocese "as the strongest protest I can make" because "I was ordered to maintain a silence on racism."

The Rev. John V. Coffield, 49, called his departure "a solution to an impasse between my cardinal (James Francis Cardinal McIntyre) and myself."

The cardinal was not available for comment.

Father Coffield said in a farewell statement to his parishioners that he was ordered to take a five-month "enforced vacation" from California earlier this year because he had spoken out against controversial Proposition 13.

Lpheld by Voters

The proposition, upheld by voters last November, amended the state constitution to prohibit any abridgement of an individual's choice to whom he might sell or rent a home or apartment. In effect, it nullified state antidiscrimination housing laws.

"Scarcely anyone knew of the shocking way I was ordered out of California after I had spoken out against Proposition 13," Father Coffield said in his statement.

"I was ordered out on June 22nd and was not allowed back until November 15th," he said.

Report of Racial Discrimination at U.S. Bases in Germany Not Current

BY JOHN BAUSMAN

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — A U.S. Army spokesman said today that a report to President Johnson describing an acute problem of racial discrimination near American bases in Germany is "not reflective of the current situation."

"We would certainly not regard this problem as acute at the present time," said the spokesman at the Army's European headquarters.

He said the report apparently was based on information collected on a tour of European bases two years ago.

Acute in Germany

In a final report, made known Sunday, the President's Commission on Equal Opportunity in the Armed Forces notified Johnson that racial discrimination in public accommodations and housing near bases was "particularly acute in Germany and certain areas of the Far East."

It said vigorous action should be taken by base commanders to eliminate discrimination affecting soldiers off base.

American Army authorities here would not call the report unfair.

But the headquarters spokesman pointed out, "The heat has been on this situation for 2½ years and we feel we've made tremendous strides."

Set Up Committees

The Army has set up committees of white and Negro soldiers and of Germans and Americans to tackle the problem.

"We've met with excellent cooperation in every quarter and have made very considerable progress," the officer said.

"We do not deny that there are still places where discrimination exists, but they are very, very few."

As a specific example of progress the spokesman pointed to Bad Kreuznach, where the 8th Infantry Division is stationed.

"Two years ago there was open discrimination in at least three bars there, practiced by the bar owners. Now there is none. The signs restricting service have disappeared as a result of a local community relations effort between Germans and Americans."

To a suggestion by the presidential commission that off-limits powers be used to force removal of discriminatory practices, the Army spokesman pointed out:

"German laws prohibit discrimination on a racial basis, but they allow German bar owners to select their clientele and to refuse service to anyone they wish. So we run into a ticklish legal problem and as guests in a host country we cannot violate local laws."

Abandoned Baby Placed in Home

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Tammy Lee Jones, the 14-month-old baby found after being abandoned in a cotton field two nights and one day, has been placed in a foster home.

Police Sgt. Evan Wilson said the child, once presumed dead, suffered only a "light case of sniffles" and was discharged from a hospital Sunday.

Police began a search for the child on Christmas Eve after her mother, Mrs. Wayne Gregory, 27, reported that Tammy was kidnapped in front of their home in nearby Mesa.

Wilson said Mrs. Gregory later admitted she had left the child in the field after finding him limp in the family car and believing her dead. Tammy was found after 37 hours.

Mrs. Gregory is serving a 30-day jail sentence for giving a false report.

Lourdes, St. Mary Post Victories in Cage Tournament

Knights Swamp Pennings in Record 93-66 Title Triumph

BY TERRY GALVIN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Mike Murphy and Steve Schumeth sparked the Lourdes High School Knights to the championship of the Lourdes Holiday Basketball Tournament here Sunday night by leading the host school to a 93-66 victory over De Pere Abbot Pennings.

Menasha St. Mary annexed the consolation title with a 56-48 decision over Little Chute St. John. The Zephyrs are 5-5 for the season, while the Dutchmen are 4-6.

Lourdes, now 7-2 overall, established an all-time school scoring record with the 93 points, erasing the old standard set in a 92-68 victory over Fond du Lac Springs last season. Pete Van Dyke's pair of free throws with one second remaining broke the old mark.

Murphy rimmed 25 points, all in the first three periods, and Schumeth chipped in with 17. Other Knights in double figures were Tom Repenshek and reserve Jack Litjens with 14 apiece. Murphy hit on 9-of-11 from the field.

Dan Golden and Rick Menard led the Squires with 15 markers. Tom Collins added 10.

Sinks 31 Baskets
Lourdes, despite missing its first 10 shots from the floor in the fourth period, split the nets at a 49.2 per cent clip on 31 of 63. Pennings netted 28 of 70 for a very respectable 40 per cent. The victors boasted a 31-10 edge on the free throw line.

In the consolation battle, the Dutchmen jumped off to a 3-0 lead after 2:41 had elapsed on a fielder and gift shot by Jay Van Thiel. St. Mary then took command, at 4-3, on fielders by Mike Heroux and Dave Koerner. The Zephyrs never trailed thereafter, increasing the advantage to 13-7 at period's end. The Zephyrs upped the margin to 26-14 at intermission as the Chuters repeatedly lost the ball on bad passes and traveling violations.

The Dutchmen managed to orbit just 18 shots in the first 16 minutes, hitting on five of them. St. Mary converted 12 of 33 from the floor in the first half.

The Zephyrs hiked the lead to 40-26 after three periods as John

Morenz' Basket Gives Badgers 70-69 Victory

UW '5' Avenges 86-85 Loss to Boston College

HONOLULU (AP) — Wisconsin's basketball Badgers gained sweet revenge for a Milwaukee defeat by edging Boston College 70-69 Saturday night in the opening round of the Hawaiian Rainbow Classic.

Edged 86-85 on John Austin's 35-foot shot at the final buzzer in the first round of the Milwaukee Classic Dec. 18, the Badgers turned the tables on BC, winning in similar fashion.

Paul Morenz, a 5-foot-11 reserve guard from McHenry, Ill., captured the hero's honors, hitting on a jump shot with 14 seconds remaining to boost Wisconsin's record to 4-3.

Morenz, a junior who had seen little action previously this season, made the most of his chance, sparking a Badger rally and finishing with 15 points. Wisconsin trailed 67-61 with 3:32 to play, but Morenz then scored five straight points. After Boston's John Humann hit on a jumper, Wisconsin's Ken Gustafson scored to set the stage for Morenz's decisive field goal.

Tied at Half
The two teams battled to a 38-38 standoff in the first half before BC pulled away after the intermission. Then Morenz rallied his mates with his slick shooting.

Austin, who set a Milwaukee Classic record by scoring 36 points against the Badgers, played with a heavily bandaged wrist and was held to 21 points in the return meeting. Wisconsin had a 36-25 advantage in field goals, but the operation of the new scoreboard at Honolulu International Center Arena.

"I didn't know he had any connection with the tournament," Andersen said. "I thought he was just a spectator. He said something to me and his business, I turned away to talk to Richards and the next thing I knew I was being helped off the floor."

The incident caused a near riot among the 5,885 fans in the arena. Spectators came onto the court and players from both teams charged into the midst of the melee.

Order was restored with the Hawaii and a Navy submarine playing the national anthem base team.

Browns Shock Colts, 27-0, For First Title in Nine Years

Gary Collins, Ryan Pace Cleveland

BY JACK HAND

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland has ended the rule of the West in the National Football League by exploding the myth of Baltimore's super team on a grey, wintry Sunday afternoon.

When Frank Ryan, Gary Collins, Jim Brown and Co. finished rambling over the shocked Colts 27-0, they had exposed Johnny Unitas and Lenny Moore as ordinary mortals, not super men.

Because Baltimore rolled to 11 straight victories in the West and wound up with a brilliant 12-2 record, the Colts had been installed as solid seven-point favorites to chase the Browns into Lake Erie.

The Colts' super men were supposed to rush Ryan so fiercely that he would spend the day flat on his back, scanning the snow clouds overhead.

Poorest in League
Baltimore's well-balanced offense was expected to shatter the Browns' defense, poorest in the league in the season statistics, and expose their pass defenders as inept pretenders.

To the contrary, Ryan was thrown for a loss only once. The mathematical wizard threw three touchdown passes and outplayed the great Unitas.

Collins set a playoff record by grabbing three scoring passes and Brown bulldozed the Colts' league-leading defense for 114 yards on 27 carries and also caught three passes for 37 additional yards.

Just to rub it in, 40-year-old Lou Groza kicked two more field goals and ran his point total to a record 49 in eight championship games.

All of this was a delight to the most of the 79,544 fans in the vast wind-swept stadium on the fourth, with neither team scoring in the first 10 minutes. The Browns outscored the Colts 14-0 at one end of the field while the Colts, at the other, failed to score.

The West had won six of the last seven title games and had humiliated the East by running up a 10-4 score in inter-conference play during the regular season.

Until the aroused Browns ended the string, the only Eastern triumph since 1956 had been Philadelphia's 17-13 squeaker over Green Bay in 1960. Detroit, Baltimore, Green Bay and Chicago all had taken turns, deflowering the pride of the East.

Ball Control
Both Coach Blanton Collier of the Browns and Don Shula of the Colts, a unique teacher-student combination, had based their game plans on ball control. Each tried to establish — to use a coaching word — their ground game. Collier succeeded.

FVL Varsity '5' Wins, 85-66, Over Alumni

5 Members of Winning Team Hit Double Figures

BY TIM PETERMANN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fox Valley Lutheran High School used a balanced scoring attack to defeat the Alumni Sunday night, 85-66 in one of the highest scoring Alumni basketball games ever.

The Alumni opened the scoring after 10 seconds on John Koschmann's free throw. The Foxes came right back at 7:25 on Lee Kiepe's lay-up. The Alumni countered on Verlyn Dobberstein's jump shot and a free throw by Koschmann. FVL then hit for six on Kiepe's pair of free throws and jump shots by Tom Ehke and Brian Erickson for an 8-4 lead which they never relinquished.

The Alumni then got into foul trouble and the Foxes hit for nine free throws and three baskets while holding the Alumni to three buckets and a free throw to hold a 23-13 first quarter lead.

In the second quarter, the scoring seasawed back and forth, with neither team scoring more than four points in a row. The Foxes outscored the Alumni 14-0 at one end of the field while the Colts, at the other, failed to score.

By 6 Points
In the third quarter, the Foxes put the icing on the cake, as they outscored the Alumni by six points to increase their lead to 18 points, at 65-47.

The Alumni weren't ready to give up, though. FVL opened the scoring on Dahlke's layup. Chuck Krahn countered for the Alumni on a jump shot Dahlke hit another layup and the Former Packer Aide, Thomas Hearnden, Dies

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Thomas F. Hearnden, who compiled one of the finest football coaching records in high school and minor college ranks over a period of 20 years and appeared on the verge of an equally successful professional career when he was incapacitated by illness, died Sunday of a heart attack. Hearnden, who was 60 years of age, lived at 722 Emilie St.

Although he had been a semi-invalid since suffering a serious stroke in 1957 and had had one subsequent heart attack, Hearnden was in good spirits at home over the Christmas weekend. He had watched the American Football League playoff game on television Saturday.

Early Sunday, he suffered another serious attack and was taken to a hospital where he died a few hours later.

Hearnden was born in Appleton Sept. 8, 1904, and moved to Green Bay as a small boy. He was a star halfback at East High in 1920-22, captaining the team in his senior year, then enrolled at Notre Dame, where he played for three years, being co-captain of the fighting Irish in 1926.

Wind Was Factor in Big Third Period for Browns, Shula Claims

Coaches Agree on Decision to Take Ball After Half

BY GEORGE BOWEN

CLEVELAND (AP) — You're the coach and your team is playing for the National Football League championship. It's a scoreless battle at halftime and when you return to the field you have the option of receiving the kickoff and moving against the wind or kicking and playing with the wind at your back.

What do you do? Both Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns and Don Shula of the Baltimore Colts, who were in that situation Sunday, agree you really have no choice. The best thing to do is take the ball.

But it didn't work out that way.

The Colts chose to receive, were stopped cold and the Browns, with the aid of a 30-mile an hour wind at their backs, rushed in 17 points in the third quarter and went on to a 27-0 victory.

Wind Big Factor
"You've got to take the ball," said Shula after the game. "It's pretty hard to get it. But the wind was a big factor — that's what broke up the ball game. They got us backed up in a corner at the closed end of the field and at the same time they got momentum."

They got the momentum from two punts by Tom Gilbreath into the wind that traveled only 25 yards and made the Browns' job easier.

Collier agreed with Shula that you have to take the ball and pointed out that when the Browns had won the loss to Aiona, 46-year-old executive secretary of the Hawaii chapter of the International Association of Approved Basketball Officials after the first game of the tournament here Saturday night.

Chuck Leahey, tournament director, removed Aiona Sunday as head of officials for the Rainbow Classic.

"Aiona has been relieved of his duties in this tournament," Leahey said. "This was a hard thing for us to do. Over the years, Jimmy has done a great deal for basketball in the islands but his action Saturday night leaves us no other choice."

Aiona claimed that Leahey doesn't have the power to remove him and indicated there might be an officials' boycott of the tournament which resumes with a doubleheader tonight.

Red Rocha, former National Basketball Association star and now head coach at the University of Hawaii which is sponsoring the classic, "I don't know what's going to happen now."

Rymkus Added To Oiler Staff
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Oilers' new coach, Hugh (Bones) Taylor, added game of Saturday night's first former Oiler head coach Lou Rymkus and present defensive line coach Joe Spencer to his Creighton (Fuzzy) Richards to staff Saturday.

Taylor, who replaced Sammy Baugh last Tuesday, said Baugh would remain with the American Football League club as offensive backfield coach.

Story of Return From Disfavor
Gilchrist's Value to Bills Rises Sharply in Month

BY MIKE RATHET
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Early last month Cookie Gilchrist was worth $100. Saturday he was the key to a record winning share of $2,668.60 for each member of the American Football League champion Buffalo Bills.

Now for the first time, the full story of Gilchrist's return from disfavor can be told.

Parts of it have been pieced together before but The Associated Press has learned the entire story of the key individuals involved — quarterback Jack Kemp and assistant general manager Chuck Burr.

Gilchrist was placed on waivers early in November after clashing with coach Lou Saban. The Bills had reeled off nine victories without a defeat with Gilchrist in the line-up but, with owner Ralph Wilson's consent, it was agreed that Gilchrist would be placed on waivers.

Gilchrist, however, got in touch with Kemp and pleaded for another chance.

"Kemp heard Cookie out," said the source, "and he believed that he was really sorry but Jackie didn't know how to handle the situation."

Kemp turned to Burr. Burr listened to Kemp, who said that Gilchrist "wanted to go to Saban but realized he couldn't."

Contacts Players

Burr suggested Kemp contact certain key players on the team and see how they felt about the situation.

So, Kemp got in touch with the Bills beat the San Diego Capt. Billy Shaw and linebacker

Illinois Meets St. Joseph
Michigan, Wichita Put National Rankings on Line in Tourney Action

BY MURRAY CHASS
Eight of college basketball's Top Ten teams, led by Michigan and Wichita, must protect their high rankings in holiday tournaments tonight, but none is expected to have the in-law trouble that Coach Ladell Anderson of Utah State encountered in the Rainbow Classic at Honolulu.

Michigan, the No. 1 team, meets Manhattan in the first round of the Holiday Festival at New York. Second-ranked Wichita, which has lost only to Michigan, plays Villanova, one of nine major unbeaten, in the Quaker City semifinals at Philadelphia.

Six other teams play in five tournaments tonight while Minnesota No. 3, was scheduled to play an afternoon game, leaving sixth-ranked Duke as the only Top Ten team idle.

Utah State's Anderson was anything but idle Saturday night following his team's 94-91 overtime loss to the Hawaii Marines in a first-round game of the Rainbow tournament.

Upset with what he termed "poor officiating" Anderson rushed onto the floor immediately after the final buzzer and engaged in a midcourt conversation with one of the referees, Creighton Richards.

Dropped Anderson

Suddenly, Jimmy Aiona, Richards' father - in - law, charged out of the stands, onto the floor and dropped Anderson with a right hook to the face.

Aiona, a retired referee who heads the local referees' organization, was arrested and charged with assault and battery after receiving a severe tongue-lashing from Mayor Neal S. Blaisdell of Honolulu, who witnessed the one-punch fight from the stands.

When the outburst finally was quelled, Wisconsin met Boston College and won 70-69 on Paul Morenz' jump shot with 14 seconds left. The Rainbow's last two opening round games are set for tonight.

Also on the schedule are games in 12 other major tournaments. Among the most interesting is the Quaker City Classic.

Wichita, 6-1, plays Villanova, 8-0, after annihilating Pitt 109-58 Saturday. Villanova defeated Penn, its Philadelphia neighbor, 52-47 in overtime.

In the other semifinal, seventh-ranked Illinois, 7-1 will try to halt St. Joseph's unbeaten string at eight. Illinois trampled

Churchich First Soph QB in Cotton Bowl Since Starr

DALLAS (AP) — The last time a sophomore quarterback played in the Cotton Bowl was 1954 and the guy's name was Bart Starr — yes, the Bart Starr who now leads the mighty Green Bay Packers of pro football.

Starr didn't have too good a day. His team, Alabama, was beaten 28-6 by Rice although a fellow named Tommy Lewis came off the bench to tackle Dicky Moegle when the latter was on the way to a showdown.

Friday a sophomore named Bob Churchich will be at the helm when Nebraska plays Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl. Churchich might well be called football's miracle man.

It was the third game of the season. Fred Duda had gone out with a broken leg in the first period against Iowa State. Churchich was sent in.

He had played very little and in the first two games had managed only 38 yards in passing. Nebraska had the ball on its self and that he shouldn't hesitate about what plays he called — they were with him in whatever he did.

Churchich led Nebraska to a 14-7 victory and from then on was the key man in the Cornhusker offense.

He threw 102 passes and completed 54 for 893 yards and seven touchdowns. He carried the ball for 152 yards. He either scored a touchdown or passed for one or two in every game as Nebraska rolled to a 9-1 season and got a spot in the Cotton Bowl.

Alumni countered again on a jump shot and tip-in by Koschmann. Dahlke got another layup as the Foxes caught the Alumni defense off guard for the third time in a row. After this, the fourth quarter free throw contest began. The Alumni hit five free throws, plus four field goals, while the Foxes hit eight free throws plus three buckets to end the game.

There were 32 fouls in the game, with FVL taking advantage of the fouls to convert 31 of 44 free throws while the Alumni hit only 18 of 30. The Foxes also shot better from the floor, sinking 27 of 66 while the Alumni canned only 24 of 81 shots. The rebounds were almost even, with the Foxes getting 44 compared to 41 for the Alumni.

FVL's balanced scoring had five players in double figures. Erickson had 18, Kiepe 16, Dahlke 15, Vandertie 13, and Ehlike 11. Dobberstein led all scorers with 22 followed by Don Arps with 19.

Ryan Not Particularly Pleased With Own Showing in Title Game

Credits Rushing Game for Success Of Passing Attack

BY MIKE RATHET
CLEVELAND (AP)—Frank Ryan posed for pictures as a left-handed passer. And some people even have accused him of posing as a quarterback. But Frank Ryan — prankster, genius and quarterback for the Cleveland Browns — had the answer to his critics on the shores of windswept Lake Erie Sunday, firing 18, 42 and 51 yard touchdown passes to Gary Collins in a 27-0 victory over Baltimore for the National Football League championship.

Then in the dressing room Ryan told about one of his critics.

Even the Boston Celtics like to get some help now and then. Baltimore has been most obliging.

The Bullets obliged again Sunday night, knocking off Cincinnati 126-119. And the Celtics added another full game of their Eastern Division lead in their methodical march toward a seventh straight National Basketball Association title.

The mighty Celtics wiped out an 18 point deficit at Fort Wayne, Ind., and edged Detroit 112-106, extending their Eastern Division lead to six games over Cincinnati. St. Louis rallied for a 99-89 decision over the Knicks in New York in the only other game played Sunday.

Boston's victory was its sixth without loss against Detroit this season, and the Celtics 11th in the last 12 games.

The Pistons had a 57-54 half-time advantage, and increased the lead to 18 before Boston started back, paced by Sam Jones. Jones missed his first four field goal attempts in the second half, then hit 12 of 14 the rest of the way and finished with 40 points.

John Havlicek nailed it down with a couple of jump shots, breaking a 104-104 deadlock, with just over a minute left.

Baltimore scored its third victory in four starts against Cincinnati, snapping a five-game Royal winning string. Gus Johnson and Walt Bellamy each scored 32 points for the Bullets, off-setting a 48-point performance by Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson.

St. Louis trailed 52-45 at half-time, then out-scored New York 22-5 opening the third period and wasn't headed again in breaking a four-game losing string. Len Wilkens had 24 points for the winners, Jim Barnes 21 for the losers.

In Saturday night games, Cincinnati dropped Philadelphia 135-125, New York edged Baltimore 118-116, Boston stopped St. Louis 97-84 and Los Angeles beat San Francisco 129-122.

Three quick points by Kim Vanderhyden increased the spread to eight with slightly less than three minutes remaining. The Chuters never threatened thereafter.

Zephyr ace Mike Heroux was limited to 11 points by the Dutchmen. Heroux entered the game with a 24 point average. Vanderhyden and Dave Koerner look up the scoring slack for St. Mary with 17 and 13 respectively. Kosiorek added 10.

Bruce Hammen, the Fox Valley Catholic Conference scoring champion of the '63-64 season, tallied 14 for the Chuters while Jay Van Thiel added 13.

St. Mary finished with 20 of 53 from the field for a 37.7 percentage. St. John connected on 16 of 43 for 37.2 per cent. The Dutchmen, however, were limited to just 27 shots in the first three periods.

Defense Proved Its Point

Magnificent Team Effort, Says Cleveland's Collier After Victory

BY LOU MIO
CLEVELAND (AP) — His close friends call him George and he shakes hands with his left hand "because it's the one closer to my heart."

He's Blanton Collier, head coach of the National Football League champion Cleveland Browns — and he shook lots of hands Sunday after the Browns beat the Baltimore Colts 27-0 for the NFL title, their first since 1955.

Friends and well-wishers crammed the Browns' locker room to congratulate the bespectacled 58-year-old grandfather who was named head coach two seasons ago.

In a sometimes clipped Kentucky accent, Collier said, "I know it's corny, but it really was a magnificent team effort. The defense was just great and you've got to give them a lot of credit."

In two years, Collier has skippered the Browns to a 20-7-1 record and a championship. He is no stranger to Cleveland, however. This is his 11th season with the Browns and 36th year in coaching.

"I'm just a football nut," he said.

Collier's coaching thread winds back to Paris, Ky. high school, where he began studying pro football tactics by watching the Philadelphia Eagles work on the T-formation at nearby Bainbridge.

He devoured football knowledge. As an athletic specialist at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center in World War II, Collier used to hang around the practice field watching a coach named Paul Brown.

Brown wondered about the curious observer taking notes and it was the start of a long friendship.

Collier was on the ground floor as an assistant coach when the Browns broke into the All-American Conference in 1946. Brown gave him a specific job — devise a system of grading players by studying their performances on film.

Model for Others
Three months later the report was done. It dwarfed anything done previously along similar lines and became a model for other NFL teams.

Collier stayed with the Browns until 1954, then returned to his home state as head coach to succeed Paul Bryant at the University of Kentucky.

During his eight-year stay with the Wildcats, Collier had a young assistant who, he said, had the makings of a fine pro football coach. He was Don Shula, head coach of the Baltimore Colts.

Brown asked Collier to come back in 1962 and he did. That year the Browns had their second worst season (7-6-1) in 18 years of professional football. Art Modell, who bought the club in 1961, decided to change coaches.

He named Collier and it was typical of the man that he didn't accept until he first talked to Brown — his friend for 15 years.

Collier kept the assistant coaches, adding Dub Jones to replace Dick Evans, who went to Philadelphia. This season he added Nick Skorich, to whom Collier gives much of the credit for improving the Browns' defensive line.

Collier is a bug on detail, strategy and execution. During a chalk - talk he can diagram a play as fast as two nimble minds playing tic-tac-toe. He can quote the odds on how many times a team will score when they get the ball and how often it can be expected to lose the ball on fumbles and interceptions.

He also gave the team something observers felt was missing the last couple years — a pride in itself. After the Browns won the Eastern Division title in New York, one player pointed to Collier and said, "we wanted to win it for that man."

Surrounded by newsmen Sunday, Collier fielded their questions on the fly, and, as has been his policy this season, didn't single out anyone for special praise.

Named a Starter

"I can't think of anyone who didn't have a good day," he said. Quarterback Frank Ryan certainly did, and it was Collier who tutored the ex-Los Angeles Ram when Ryan came to Cleveland in 1962. He made Ryan a starter last season, and Frank refers to him as "the most complete coach I've ever known."

Collier — signed to a new three-year contract last week — always has had a special love for specialist teams and defensive units. The Browns defense allowed more rushing yardage this season than any NFL club, and Collier feels they answered the critics Sunday.

"They've been unjustly ridiculed all year," he said. "They went into this thing determined to show people — and they certainly proved their point."

Players Praise Browns' Defense After Shutout

Great Rush by Front Four Earned NFL Championship

CLEVELAND (AP) — The first Cleveland Brown clomped into the dressing room and yelled, "How's that for laughs champs?"

Several others picked up the cue and it echoed across the boisterous locker room minutes after the Browns beat the Baltimore Colts 27-0 Sunday for the National Football League championship.

The remark allegedly was made during the season by an NFL coach about the Browns' all-out blitz a couple times, and Coach Blanton Collier's team never forgot, especially the defensive unit, which had yielded more yardage this year than any NFL team.

"It was our best defensive game of the year," shouted captain Galen Fiss over the din. "We had to count on our front four and knew that had to do it."

The front four did, putting pressure on Colts' quarterback Johnny Unitas and not giving him time to set up and throw.

Good Tackle Rush

Defensive end Bill Glass said we had a good tackle rush by Dick Modzelewski and Jim Kanicki. Also we had more blitzing than ever before. We even tried an all-out blitz a couple times.

Defensive Coach Nick Skorich said the rushing didn't allow Unitas to pick out his first receiver and made him look in a hurry for a secondary target.

"Jim Kanicki came of age today," Skorich said. Kanicki and Modzelewski both filled in this year when regulars Frank Parker and Bob Gain were sidelined.

"Everybody picked us to lose," said Modzelewski, who was acquired this season from New York in a trade for Bobby Crespino. "We shut them out, that's the best part," Modzelewski added. "There was no tension before the game. Everybody was relaxing and clowning around."

Flanker Gary Collins, who caught three touchdown passes to set a NFL championship game record, said his first touchdown was a "hook post pattern. I just got out there and took off."

Broken Pattern

The second was a broken pattern Frank (quarterback) Collins instead. Warfield often had double coverage and pointed out the Colts "couldn't afford to have single coverage on Gary."

Lou Groza, who booted two field goals and holds the NFL records for extra points and field goals in championship games, said "This championship came a lot tougher than others in the past. I think it was the diversification of passing that helped our running game. We used all our weapons."

Offensively, Collier said, the Browns "didn't make any changes. Not at this stage of the season. I think it was our best defensive game of the year."

He said Ryan called an excellent game. "He has a strong arm and a good mind," Collier said. "Sometimes Baltimore had two people looking at each other in a mixup on pass coverage."

Collier didn't try to single out a special hero. "I can't think of anybody who didn't have a good day," he said.

Browns Rip Colts to Win NFL Crown

and Shula didn't. It was as simple as that.

After a scoreless first half, the Browns struck quickly for 17 points in the third quarter with the help of two short punts of 25 and 27 yards by the Colts' Tom Gilburg against a 20-mile-an-hour wind.

Groza's 43-yard field goal was the first blow. Then came Ryan's 18-yard scoring pass to Collins, the 6-foot-4 flanker from Maryland, and Ryan's 42-yard TD pass to the same powerful receiver.

When the Colts dug in and stopped the Browns on the goal line early in the final period, Cleveland had to settle for a nine-yard field goal by Groza.

Ryan's 51-yard pitch to Collins, who made a most remarkable catch in heavy traffic, concluded the scoring.

It was the Browns' first title since 1955 and the first since Jim Brown joined the club as a rookie in 1957. They were beaten by Detroit in that '57 game. In fact, the West still holds a lopsided 20-12 edge in the annual championship game series, thanks largely to the Bears and Packers.

11 of 18 Passes

Ryan's abilities as a quarterback had been questioned by many, including some Cleveland fans, during several in-and-out performances. No more Ryan hit with 11 of 18 for 206 yards, Units with 12 of 20 for 95 yards.

"They just couldn't stop Jim (Brown) and that slowed up their rushing on me," said done. They got us backed into Ryan. "If Jimmy wasn't hurt, the corner and we couldn't get man. I would have run him on every play."

No financial figures were available but it was estimated that each winning share would be about $9,000 and each losing share about $5,000, approximately.

The Browns who had smarted under the lash of their many critics, broke into the dressing room yelling, "How's that for laugh champs?"

An unnamed NFL coach allegedly had made such a disparaging remark about the Browns earlier in the season.

"Everybody picked us to lose," said Dick Modzelewski, who had known titles before when he played with the New York Giants. "We shut them out. That's the best part."

Pressure on Unitas

Moe had figured as a swing man in pre-season planning. Injuries to Frank Parker and Bob Gain, however, forced Collier to play the ex-Giant as a regular. He and Jim Kanicki, the other defensive tackle, helped Bill Glass and Paul Wiggin keep the pressure on Unitas.

"We had to count on our front four and knew they had to do it," said linebacker Galen Fiss, who contributed heavily to the defense with his smashing play.

Collins won the cat that is awarded by a magazine to the outstanding player but it was difficult to single out any one Cleveland player. Ryan was superb. So was Brown. The offensive line gave Ryan great protection and the defense outdid itself.

Shula pointed to his team's failure in giving up the ball twice on fumbles and twice on interceptions. Unitas had been intercepted only six times during the regular 14-game season.

"We had zero points on the scoreboard," said Shula. "I wasn't satisfied with anyone. Their defense did a heck of a job but we couldn't get anything done. They got us backed into action in more than a few games. He spent 1929 practicing law in Chicago, during which time he was on the roster of the Chicago Bears, then began his spectacular coaching career at Racine St. Catherine in 1930.

In 13 years of high school coaching prior to World War II, Hearden compiled a record of 85 victories, only 11 defeats and eight ties. He set a state record of 32 consecutive victories while at East High between 1936 and 1939, then compiled 20 more wins and two ties before losing two. His mark at East over a 7-year span was a glittering 51-3-2.

He left East to accept a Navy commission during World War II, during which he was backfield coach for the Iowa Pre-Flight Eleven, which won 17 and lost only two games in 1943-44. He was to have been head coach of the Pre-Flighters in 1945, but the end of the war caused cancellation of the schedule and he spent the season scouting for the University of Iowa.

Following his discharge from active service, Hearden became head football coach and athletic director at St. Norbert and signaled his arrival on the De Pere campus by leading the Green Knights to an 8-0 season. In seven years at the St. Norbert helm, he ran the Green Knight mark to 41-13, including three unbeaten and untied seasons and four Midland Conference championships. St. Norbert was undefeated under him in 1946, 1950 and 1952.

His overall coaching record was 126 wins, 24 losses and eight ties. It included eight perfect seasons, one in which his team was unbeaten but tied twice and six with only one defeat. Only twice in 20 years did his teams fall below break-even or better.

Hearden was inactive in 1953, but joined the Packer coaching staff in 1954 as defensive backfield coach under Lisle Blackbourn. He was with the Packers for two seasons, then resigned to take the post of assistant coach under Milt Bruhn at the University of Wisconsin.

A year later he was back on the Packer coaching roster, only to suffer a stroke after the 1957 season. Although the Packers retained him in an advisory capacity for the following season he was unable to take an active part in the game.

A fundamental perfectionist, Hearden turned out teams thoroughly grounded in blocking and tackling and highly schooled in pass defense.

Hearden was a teammate of "Sleepy" Jim Crowley at East High when East claimed the state championship in 1920, then followed Crowley to Notre Dame. As a sophomore he was a member of the famed "four horsemen" national champions although not a regular, then was co-captain of the 1926 Notre Dame team. He took his law degree from Notre Dame in 1927, later earning his masters degree at the University of Wisconsin.

In 1953 St. Norbert College honored his services by presenting him with the Alma Mater award that year. The award was given for his outstanding contribution to the growth and progress of the college.

LSU's Pat Screen To Have Surgery

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Pat Screen's trick knee has a date with surgeons Jan. 4—three days after he faces Syracuse in the Sugar Bowl.

Screen, Louisiana State University's total offense leader, was in New Orleans for the holidays.

He told newsmen the operation would not be serious but, the ligament is stretched and will keep his right leg in a cast.

Two Fox Valley Counties Raised 1965 Tax Levies

MADISON — Two of the counties in the Fox Valley area have increased their property tax levies, while two others have either reduced their levies or are holding them unchanged.

Outagamie County increased its levy by $76,616, while Calumet upped its total by $37,016. Waupaca reduced its levy by $27,085. Winnebago County's property tax total remained unchanged.

The reports came from the Public Expenditure Survey of Wisconsin, a private nonpolitical, nonprofit government research and service agency for state-wide and community taxpayer groups which gathered the information from county clerks.

All state county property tax levies made this fall for 1965 budgets total $147,938,356, rising $6,716,477 over total county purpose levies for this year.

Colts Slip Back Into Baltimore Nearly Unnoticed

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts slipped back into town virtually unnoticed Sunday night after dropping a 27-0 decision to the Cleveland Browns in the National Football League title game.

Elaborate security plans were in effect at Friendship International Airport, where an unruly crowd met the Colts in 1958 after they whipped the New York Giants in sudden-death overtime to capture the NFL championship.

About 70 police were ready to handle a crowd that never developed. A bus met the Colts plane on the runway, and left by a back road en route to Memorial Stadium, where the players were reunited with their friends and families.

The Colts had been pleading with the fans for several days not to gather at the airport, and thus "bring the 1964 football season to a safe conclusion."

Rainy weather also may have dampened the enthusiasm of the fans.

Peerenboom's 256 Line Leads Kimberly League

KIMBERLY — Gene Peerenboom slammed a 256 singleton and a 573 series, while Charles Jensen hit a235 game and 596 series to share honors in the Classic Bowling League at Jersey's Lanes.

Other honor scores were hit by Joe Seegers, 579; Joe Van Cuyk, 575; John Meunier, 573; Howie Thiessen, 567; Jim Hartjes, 561; and Joe Gerrits, 555.

Shirley Better hit a 192 game and Gloria Kraft a 516 set to top the Lucky Strike League at Jerry's Lanes. The only other honor score was a 504 by Allie Dictus.

La Crosse Duels Ripon in Tourney Opener Tonight

LA CROSSE (AP) — Host La Crosse, Wisconsin's lone undefeated basketball team, meets Ripon and Eastern Illinois plays the University of Minnesota-Duluth tonight in opening round games of a third annual tournament.

La Crosse, the defending champion in the State University Conference, will seek its seventh straight victory in the meeting with Ripon's Redmen.

Ripon is defending champion in the Midwest Conference but has managed only two victories in five starts this season.

The winners of tonight's games will meet for the championship Tuesday night. The losers will play a consolation game.

State Senior Golf Association Gives Aid to Evans Fund

GOLF, Ill. (AP) — The Wisconsin Senior Golf Association has contributed $1,000 to cover the tuition of three Evans Scholars Foundation students at the University of Wisconsin. Selected for awards this year were Evans Scholars freshmen Richard Vollbrecht of Sheboygan, Richard Pruett of Milwaukee and John Kramer of Brookfield.

The Wisconsin Senior Golf Association presented the foundation $600 last year to cover tuition of two scholars. Association president Warren S. Gillette of Appleton said the grant was increased this year "because we are even more aware of the very real good which this program does."

More than 147 former Wisconsin golf caddies have received Evans scholarships since 1947. There are 54 now enrolled in the Evans chapter at Madison. Some 5,000 Wisconsin golfers contribute annually to the foundation.

Auditors Charge Navy Giving Unauthorized Hazardous Duty Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government auditors have told Congress the Navy is illegally giving about $1 million a year in hazardous duty submarine pay to staff personnel working primarily on shore or on surface ships.

Comptroller General Joseph R. Want ads accepted to 4:00 p.m. the day before day of publication. For Monday—Before noon Saturdays. For Sunday—Before 10:30 a.m. Saturdays.

CORRECTIONS OR CANCELLATIONS
Want ads corrections or cancellations accepted to 8:30 a.m. for the same day publication. For Sunday—Before 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

IMPORTANT
Composition costs will be charged, if an ordered ad is cancelled before publication. After an ad is ordered, it cannot be changed before one publication.

When cancelling on ad, demand a "kill number." No claim is recognized on ads cancelled without it. The number of days ad is published determines the rate of such ads.

ADJUSTMENTS
The Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for verbal statements in conflict with its established rules, policies or rates. All claims for adjustments or refunds must be made within 7 days after expiration of ad. Errors, not the fault of the advertiser, which make the advertisement less valuable, should be corrected the first day, when one extra corrected insertion will be made without charge. The Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for error after the first insertion.

NOTICE
The Post-Crescent is exercising all precautions to avoid publishing any fraudulent or misleading advertising. However, if any ad appearing in the classified columns of the Post-Crescent can be proven fraudulent or misleading, we would appreciate your informing us immediately.

Skin Tone and Tissue Degenerate After 40

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. but that proper carriage of the head in time will eliminate some of the drop.

My physical culturist teaches that you should twist and stretch neck muscles to tone them up. However, some beauty experts advise against exercising the neck, claiming that one should avoid stretching the skin,

Dr. Molner

These two schools sound contradictory. Which in your opinion is more apt to be helpful? — Mrs. V.S.

Both kinds of advisers have to make their living, and naturally try to convince people that they have methods that will unflinchingly flab the flab.

Some events we just have to accept. After 40 or so, the tone of the skin changes. So does the fibrous tissue under the skin. That's what leads to wrinkling, flabbiness and droop.

Another factor is that the texture of skin varies with people. We can't do much about that.

For still another, if we put on extra weight and later (wisely) lose it, we have also stretched the skin and then let it sag when the fat departs. Early in life, this is tolerable. The skin is elastic. Later it doesn't snap back to its original tautness.

As for exercise (while I approve of it in reasonable doses), I doubt very much if this can make the muscles bulge and undo the flabbiness of the skin. But conversely, I have the most vigorous doubts that any neck exercises would stretch the skin.

Exercise, besides keeping you limber and feeling fit, won't have much to do with your skin. But it will help you along in developing or maintaining proper carriage of the head. And yes, that does improve the lines of neck, bust and shoulders.

Both Have Helps So I say that both the physical culturist and the beauty experts have some things that are helpful. The trick is to sort out which is which.

Exercise? Yes. It won't stretch the skin, but its principal benefit will be in improving posture and making you feel better.

For unduly dry skin (which wrinkles faster) massage creams into it. This won't help overnight, but it may in the long run.

Second, develop good posture, if you haven't already. Third, appropriate earrings, necklaces and necklines can help distract attention from wrinkles or sag. As we get older, we all have to accept a certain amount of such problems.

Why, come to think of it, I've developed a few wrinkles myself!

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a friend who won't eat a banana until, after peeling it, he scrapes off a thin layer. He says that otherwise the banana is hard to digest. Is this true? — C.K.

It's an old fable, and has no basis in truth.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has a skin cancer just below his eye. Should it be removed? — Mrs. A. H.

Definitely, yes. I'm sorry you took the time even to write to me. When cancer is found, the quicker it is removed, the better. Obviously you have been told by your doctor to have it removed. Do so immediately.

Stricter Rules Hike Nursing Home Fees

Brown County Welfare Director Explains Higher Patient Care Fees

Post-Crescent News Service

Welfare costs in nursing homes are rising because the Wisconsin Board of Health has laid down stricter rules, according to Brown County Welfare Director John Wood.

The state board of health now requires all county homes to have registered or practical nurses on duty at all times.

Aside from this, the minimum wage is up from 85 cents an hour to $1.15 and fees in Brown County for nursing home care have been below the average state level for "an area our size," said Wood.

The Brown County Board of Public Welfare recently adopted a compromise schedule of fees for nursing home care of persons under county support programs.

According to the new schedule, the fees would be $140 monthly for minimum care, $185 for medium care and $200 for maximum care. Nursing home operators had requested from $180 to $330 monthly.

Present Rates
Existing rates range from $115 to $150 monthly.

The Guardian Angel Home, owned by the county and leased by John Pennings, charges $115-$140 for personal care, $130-$185 for limited care and $150-$200 for bed care.

"We try to keep the rates the same as the county," Pennings said.

At the new Guardian Angel Home, north of here on State 57, the personal care rate is $180, or $6 daily; medicated care rate is $210, or $7 daily, and skilled care rate is $240, or $8 daily.

Pennings said personal care includes cases not requiring medication (although the cost depends on the condition of the patient), limited care includes prescribed medicine and skilled care requires oxygen, shots or similar treatments.

Rates at the new Grancare Nursing Home, located at Dousman Street and Military Avenue, range from $270 to $360 per month, or $9-$12 on a prorated basis, for semi-private rooms.

Private rooms range from $420-$450 per month, pro-rated $14-$15 per day.

Special Therapies
Director Donald Idzik said Grancare provides skilled nursing services by Wisconsin registered nurses and rehabilitation services, including physical, occupational and speech therapies. The board of welfare has asked the county board to authorize a study of whether a county-operated nursing home is needed because of the increasing costs.

A study made two years ago by a citizens committee will be brought up to date if necessary, because of the increasing case load and costs. The updating comes at the request of the welfare department.

The report was prepared as a guide for developing a comprehensive program of care needed by aged and chronically ill persons in Brown County.

Wood said there are about 15 nursing homes in the area. A total of 166 persons in these homes are part of the county support programs.

Out of County
"Some are even scattered around out of the county because homes in the area are filled," Wood explained.

The citizens committee report encouraged a non-profit corporation or corporations and assistance in developing a multi-purpose institutional unit providing both personal care and skilled nursing care to patients Al Whitby lead the high school basketball team in scoring.

Waupaca Is One of 30 to Cut Tax Levy

County Notes 12th Largest Drop in State, Tax Survey Shows

Waupaca County was one of 30 in the state to reduce its tax levy for 1965, according to a survey by the Wisconsin Tax News.

It slashed $27,085 from the figure to be raised by taxes, the 12th greatest cut in the state. No other county in the Fox Valley was listed among those indicating a reduction.

Winnebago County was one of three which reported the same levy as a year ago.

Valley Counties
Other Fox Valley counties were among 13 reporting levy increases above $50,000.

Greatest increase was Brown County's $138,685. Fond du Lac County reported a $92,800 hike and Outagamie $76,716.

Calumet county's increase was only $37,016.

Exclusions
The reported levies excluded any amounts for state forestry tax, school district loans or items charged back to communities.

A poll of clerks in the state indicated counties relied heavily on surplus and idle funds to reduce the levy.

This has been the best year since 1957 for Wisconsin counties in holding or reducing property tax rates, according to the survey.

Senior Cager Leads Chilton In Scoring

Al Whitby Averages 18 Points; Also Tops In Rebounding

CHILTON — With an average of 18.2 points per game, senior Al Whitby lead the high school basketball team in scoring.

Figures released by Coach one or more such facilities Ron Akun during the team's exists, hospitals and physicians holiday break show Whitby has patients no longer requiring scored 128 points, hitting on 43 of 75 shots from the floor and 42 of 52 from the free throw line.

Secretary Quits After 26 Years in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Miss Marguerite A. Scanlon has retired after 26 years as secretary to two Wisconsin representatives from Wisconsin's 7th Congressional District.

Miss Scanlon, who came to Washington in January, 1939, as secretary to the late Rep. Reid Murray of Ogdensburg, retired Saturday as secretary to Rep. Melvin Laird of Marshfield.

A native of Lebanon, Wis., in Waupaca County, Miss Scanlon served as secretary to the cashier of the First State Bank of New London until Murray asked her to join his staff.

Lawrence's College Bowl Victory Only Matter of How

200-80 Defeat of Russell Sage Women Known Before Telecast

By Marguerite Schumann

Viewing the General Electric College Bowl television program Sunday was like reading a murder mystery after you had peeked at the last page. You knew who done it; it was simply a question of how.

Early in the week, when the contest between Lawrence University and Russell Sage College was video-taped due to the difficulties of holiday travel, news of Lawrence's 200-80 victory was reluctantly and "officially" released to the press.

Sunday local fans could sit back in their chairs, secure in the knowledge that Gordon Taylor, Grinnell, Iowa, Thomas Verich, Superior; C. Nicholas Vogel, Fargo, N.D., and Ralph Whitehead, Appleton, had done it again.

Heat Off
With the heat off, you might think this reporter could turn in an especially cogent account of the question topics and scoring. However, the lady Ph.D. who helps us out when the pencil is paralyzed and the bachelor of music degree is inadequate to the task is away on Christmas vacation.

Furthermore, the Lawrence team is becoming more aggressive and is incurring penalties for incorrect answers, which strokes with the Decemberist school in Chambersburg, Pa.

Identified Musicals
Taylor identified a 19th century utopian settlement as New Harmony, the novel "Brave new world" the publisher John Peter Zenger, the Mound Builder Indians, Bertrand Russell, Secretary of State Webster, and songs from four musical comedies—"Of Thee I sing," "South Pacific," "Flare!" and "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Try- ing." The voice of Ralph Whitehead was heard on the edge of one of these, but it really seemed to be Taylor's face their fourth opponent, Verich scored two major Wilson College, a women's Decemberist school in Chambersburg, Pa.

'To Live Means to Move'
WITTENBERG — "To live means to move, to be active, and to be useful."

Maintaining personal dignity and independence is an important part of life for an individual. There are basic needs we all have regardless of age.

We need to be loved, we need to be accepted, we need to be recognized, and we all need security. It's not the house but the warmth that gives the person that feeling of personal security which contributes to the progress of the world. As people grow older perhaps some of this feeling is lost and insecurity results. The aging citizen is a fast-growing group.

Make Life Meaningful
Among the purposes of aging is to make life more meaningful and richer for the resident. We want our residents to move about, to be active as possible, and then we want them to feel there is a purpose in living.

To help attain this goal, an education and training program of eight sessions, two hours each, was recently completed at Homme Home. Participating in the program were Anderson; Dick Herman, Madison medical social worker; Lee Reed, consultant in physiotherapy with State Board of Health; Mrs. Jan Stoval, consultant in speech and hearing; Laura Braunel, occupational therapy consultant with the State Board of Health; Mrs. Carl Larsen, R.N., public health nurse; Albertina Benson, activity director; Dr. J. M. Freeman, Marathon County Hospital, Wausau, and Rev. R. N. Rem, chaplain for the home.

New London AFS Looks for Family To 'Adopt' Student

Jan. 15 Deadline for Choosing Home for Foreign Exchange Guest

NEW LONDON — Members publicly: Jay Mattick, finance; of the Washington High School the Rev. Robert Pike, home and chapter of the American Field student-family adjustment, and Service are searching for a Al Lau, Americans abroad family to serve as hosts for a coordinator.

foreign exchange student next school year.

Jan. 15 has been set by the local chapter as the deadline for choosing a family from those which have made application to "adopt" the student for the 1965-66 school term.

The chapter has a $700 fund drive goal to pay for travel expenses, personal allowance, medical payments and a bus tour of the United States for the student.

Local Expenses
Expenses such as gym supplies, transportation to school, school supplies, student activity card, graduation expense and any expense in connection with the local chapter is paid for by the New London group.

After participating in the program for one year the local school becomes eligible to send a student abroad.

Jan Demming, student council president, said students have been given the opportunity to pick up applications if their family is interested in having a student live with them. She reported that the chapter had received other forms from the national office.

Dr. L. J. Kilcen is chapter president. Other officers include Walter Bohman, Sophelia Kurkowski and Robert Johnson. Judges were the Rev. Ronald Goetsch, C. O. Iverson and Joseph Migas.

Chain O' Lakes Brochure Set
WAUPACA — A new brochure describing the Waupaca and Chain O' Lakes area has now been completed and is ready for distribution.

The new multi-colored brochure will replace the old style folder which has been used by H. Stordock, secretary of the Waupaca Association of Commerce.

The brochure lists many of the points of interest of the area and a map showing all of the Chain O' Lakes.

All tourists who send inquiries to the association will receive one of the brochures and many of the resort owners are distributing them to their customers. Copies also will be distributed next summer at the information center on the courthouse square.

Slick Roads Factor in 3 Yule Crashes

No One Injured in New London, but Car Damages Mount

NEW LONDON — Slippery conditions were a factor in three auto accidents Christmas Day investigated by city police.

Although none of the accidents resulted in injury, all three had estimated damages of more than $100.

Cars driven by Edna Wrasblewski, 37, 1101 Nassau St., New London, and William Morien, 35, 615 Warren St., New London, were involved in an accident at 1:15 p.m. at Jefferson and Law Streets.

City police said the Wrasblewski car was traveling west on Law when it collided with the Morien automobile which was headed north on Jefferson. The impact of the collision forced the Wrasblewski car against the curb where it struck a telephone pole, spun around and broke off a tree on the Robert Rumeoli property, 1013 Jefferson St.

Appleton Woman
City police said cards driven by Eileen Scheid, 37, 843 E South St., Appleton, and Joseph T. Mallak, 30, Milwaukee, were both traveling north when they became involved in a pileup on the 500 block of Shawano St., U.S. 45 at 4:45 p.m.

A rear-end collision involving automobiles driven by William LeRoy Stanton, 64, route 3, Clintonville-Marion Bowling Association, and Viola Ernst, 49, route 2, New London, was reported to the city police at 4:55 p.m. Friday.

City police reported both vehicles were traveling north on U.S. 45, about three-tenths of a mile north of State 54, at the time of the mishap.

Menominee Undeclared in BABA Action

The Menominee All-Stars retained their status as the only undefeated team in the Northern Division of Badger Amateur Basketball Association by trouncing White Lake, 95-76, Sunday.

The win was the leaders' third straight. In other games, Manawa handed Marion its first loss of the season, 78-70; New London downed Bowler, 91-79; and the Birnamwood at Hortonville game was postponed until Jan. 16.

The All-Stars led all the way, paced by Lyle Nihnam's 20 points. Mike Pomast took game honors as he topped the losing White Lake squad with 23.

Manawa Win
Manawa overcame a first quarter deficit to post its win. Tom Cox produced 23 points for the winners, while Ken Wolff pumped in 17.

Jim Oettrito took scoring honors for the day as he scored 28 points enroute to New London's win over Bowler. Stan Schultz had 19 points for the losers.

Games next weekend include New London at Marion, White Lake at Birnamwood, Manawa at Menominee and Hortonville at Bowler.

Byrnes Asks Extension of Airline Service to Appleton

Wants CAB to Delay Effective Date of Service Order to Allow For Experience at New Airport

A "several years" extension of North Central Airlines service to the Outagamie County Airport at Appleton has been requested by Eighth District Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay.

Byrnes made the request in a letter to Alan S. Boyd, CAB chairman.

He urged that the termination date of North Central service to Appleton be extended to provide for a test of traffic generated at the new Outagamie County Airport.

The CAB, in its decision last November on the North Central Airlines Regional Airport Invesigation, ordered that service to the Outagamie County Airport be consolidated with the Winnebago County Airport at Oshkosh.

Order Effective Jan. 25

The effective date of the order is Jan. 25.

Since the CAB decision was made, Outagamie County has petitioned the CAB for a rehearing and a stay of the effective date of the order. County officials have requested a two or three year stay of the order so new evidence based upon traffic at the new airport can be submitted.

If the CAB doesn't reconsider, attorneys for Appleton and Outagamie County plan an appeal to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

In his letter to Boyd, Byrnes said, "I am greatly concerned that the board would enter into such a far-ranging order without taking advantage of an opportunity for a fair test of the desires of the people of the Appleton-Oshkosh area — a test now possible in view of the fact that the new Outagamie Airport is ready for service."

"Postponement of the order terminating service at Appleton," Byrnes said, "will permit the people of this area, by the air travel choices they will make, to determine the best location for a regional airport to serve the Appleton-Oshkosh area, if the facts then indicate that a regional airport will best serve their air service needs."

Test Imperative

"This test is imperative since the board, in a decision apparently based upon inadequate information, has chosen for a regional airport a location at the remote end of the area to be served in preference to one only a short distance from the 'ideal' central location recommended by airport experts."

"Such a decision, if allowed to go into effect without a fair test of the two alternative locations, cannot help but adversely affect the public convenience and necessity in the area involved."

"The facts in this case argue overwhelmingly for the position the Examiner (Edward T. Stodola) took: that service at both the Oshkosh port and the new Outagamie airport should be continued in order to determine, through actual experience, the location preferred by the bulk of the passengers in the area."

"I strongly urge," Byrnes concluded, "that the CAB provide such a test, which can be had without harm to the present position of any of the parties, by amending its decision to postpone termination of service at Appleton through its new airport for several years."

New Airport Completed

Outagamie County's new airport west of Appleton in the Town of Greenville has been completed and now is ready for use.

North Central officials have had 90 per cent of the necessary navigational aids installed at the new airport, but apparently will not make a transfer to the new airport until the CAB makes a decision on Outagamie County's petition.

Management of the Appleton North Central office has received no notification from the airline's headquarters in Minneapolis about terminating service to Appleton on Jan. 25.

Seymour Man's Trial Date to be Set After Jan. 4

Post-Crescent News Service SHAWANO — The date for the trial of Leon DeKeyser, 30, of Seymour, on a charge of second degree murder in the death of Mrs. Violet Figlinski will be set after Jan. 4 when a new Shawano County district attorney takes office.

Shawano County Judge Kenneth Traeger who will hear the case said there is little point in setting a date until the district attorney who will prosecute the case takes over.

Lloyd Andrews will succeed Michael Eberlein as district attorney. DeKeyser was re-arrested and possession of burglary turned to Shawano County jail about a month ago from Central State Hospital at Waupun where he had been sent for observation. He has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

DeKeyser was arrested Sept. 22 after Mrs. Figlinski's body was found in a ditch by a school bus driver near her rural home.

Her throat had been slashed. DeKeyser was arrested at his place of employment in Green Bay after an investigation indicated he had been with Mrs. Figlinski in Seymour taverns the night before.

He is being held on $15,000 bond.

Fox Valley Residents Use Chicago Airport, State Survey Learns

Outagamie, Winnebago Persons Bypass Available Local Flights

An estimated 125,000 Wisconsin automobiles were slightly over two," the report said.

Another reason Wisconsinites gave for using the Chicago field was to avoid changing planes at O'Hare after arriving there from some other port out in the state.

Ground travel patterns showed the closer Wisconsin residents live to O'Hare, the more likely they are to use it.

The state agency conducted the survey at the request of the Wisconsin attorney general's office.

License numbers were taken of Wisconsin autos entering O'Hare Field and a questionnaire was mailed to the registrars.

The findings were entered as evidence by the attorney general's office in a recent proceeding before the Civil Aeronautics Board concerning the attempt of a trunk carrier to withdraw service at Milwaukee.

The attorney general's office contended that inadequacy of air service at Milwaukee was one reason why so many Wisconsin residents chose to drive directly to O'Hare, the report said.

It was disclosed the number of Wisconsin residents using O'Hare in one year equals about one-third the total boardings at Milwaukee County's General Mitchell Field.

Among the counties having residents driving direct to O'Hare for flights were Brown, Sheboygan and Fond du Lac in this part of the state. Winnebago and Outagamie counties were not mentioned in the report.

However, it was explained that availability of feeder airline service at certain cities lessened the per cent driving to Green Bay, Oshkosh and Appleton have feeder line service. Under a recent CAB order, Appleton will lose regularly scheduled airline flights.

Kentucky Thwarts Outagamie Attempt To Get Fugitives

Kentucky officials have refused an extradition request by report. Wisconsin officials for two Louisville men wanted in Appleton for a 1958 theft of 30.

The men, Charles L. Sears and Kent Layne Cox, were O'Hare arrested by Louisville police on a theft warrant issued several weeks ago by Outagamie County Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer.

Raymond Connors, legal assistant in the Kentucky governor's office, has informed Mrs. Beverly Rodgers, legal secretary for Gov. John Reynolds, that the request for extradition has been denied for reasons set forth in the hearing officer's report.

Cox and Sears were caught by Appleton police Dec. 15, 1958, in an Appleton laundry. They requested a trial on charges of theft and possession of burglary tools and were released in January on $1,000 bond each.

Fox Cities Bridge Problems

The extensive engineering study of the feasibility of a bridge across Little Lake Butte des Morts has not yet produced a final answer on that specific project, but the information gathered in the study points up some other concrete conclusions about construction projects that will have to be undertaken in this area in the near future to move a rapidly increasing load of metropolitan traffic.

Most startling were the statistics the study developed regarding Appleton's Memorial Street Bridge. It is truly the aorta feeding Appleton's downtown area. It is carrying a tremendous volume of traffic and almost all of this traffic originates or destinates within the Fox Cities complex.

If Appleton's downtown area is going to continue to grow as the retail, financial and office hub of the Fox Cities, Memorial Bridge is going to have to be widened to four lanes. But equally as important is providing much better access from the bridge into downtown Appleton. Memorial Drive and Badger Avenue are now being widened to carry traffic north and out Highway 10, but obviously widening projects will also have to be scheduled for Prospect Avenue or Lawrence Street or both.

As far as bridges are concerned, District Engineer Roy Empey foresees the need in the not too distant future for not only the proposed bridge across Little Lake Butte des Morts at Ninth Street in Men-asha, but also for two other bridges in this area, another one across Little Lake Butte des Morts at Stroebe's Island, and one across the Fox River north of Kaukauna.

And while we are talking bridges there is the present two-lane one across Big Lake Butte des Morts, the only two-lane stretch of Highway 41 from Milwaukee to Green Bay. Empey says that engineering studies on this problem will start early next year.

Now add in two other expensive construction projects whose need is already obvious, interchanges with Highway 41 at Cecil Street in Neenah and at College Avenue in Appleton.

Considering only such immediately needed projects as Memorial Bridge, the Ninth Street bridge, the Highway 41 bridge and the two interchanges we are talking about improvements that would certainly cost well in excess of $10 millions.

Under present allotments of highway construction funds to this district, this kind of money simply is not available.

It is becoming ever more obvious that new financing methods are going to have to be provided by the state for major projects like these in the growing urban areas of the state. And by new methods we mean borrowing to get these jobs done now when they are needed to be paid for over a period of time, plus a reevaluation of the formulas for allocating state highway aids so that more money is spent on improvements which benefit massive traffic loads.

City Wage Issue Settled

The yearlong disagreement over a 1964 contract between the City of Appleton and Teamsters Local 563 has been settled and it now would seem the air has been cleared sufficiently for a more objective and orderly approach to such matters in the future.

In accepting recommendations of the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board factfinder, who was called in as an impartial third party, the City Council demonstrated its good faith.

The pay increase granted city employees appears to have been a fair compromise

Our 'Who, Me?' Policy in Southeast Asia

One of the regulations apparently governing United States participation in the war going on in Southeast Asia against Communist elements is to deny that we are in it.

This has been the pattern from the beginning. United States troops were sent to South Viet Nam at the request of the late President Diem but the Americans, it was officially announced, were only to serve as "advisors" and teachers of the techniques of guerrilla warfare. It was only after American casualties began mounting and letters from servicemen described some aspects of the war and their role in it, that the American public began to realize that American deaths weren't the result of jeep accidents or bar brawls.

In Laos, where there isn't even supposed to be a war going on at all, Americans are flying reconnaissance missions with jet fighter escorts. They are authorized to fire back if fired upon. And every once in a while one is shot down. But the Pathet Lao contribute to the official non-existence of any war, as they are illegally in Laos anyway. So they make a lot of noise about "aggressive" Laotian and American planes but not much about where they contact the Pathet Lao.

The United States is a signatory to the Geneva Accords and therefore agreed to withdraw all military units from Laos and let the coalition government of Premier and should be accepted as such by all parties concerned.

This was the first year City of Appleton negotiators operated within the framework of the new and complicated Wisconsin Municipal Employee Act which establishes guidelines and procedures for the bargaining process.

With experience often the best teacher, it is presumed that future contract matters between the city and unions can be disposed of in a more orderly, expeditious fashion.

The Future of the Soldier's Home

The testimony of John Moses, director of the State Department of Veterans' Affairs, that the number of residents of the Wisconsin Home for Veterans at King, in Waupaca County, must be expected to rise rapidly in the years ahead should not be surprising.

For the men and women eligible for residence in the domiciliary facility which is a descendant of a private institution built by the GAR after the Civil War are aging, and it is inevitable that the number of admissions applications they will produce will grow over the next decade.

There are approximately 450,000 residents of Wisconsin who have had active military service in wartime. The law under which the veterans' home functions also makes generous provision for the care of the wives and other dependents of veterans, under certain circumstances. Unless the eligibility rules are modified, which is extremely doubtful, the calculation that the institution will one day have 1,500 residents instead of the 500 population of today is probably a prudent one.

Mr. Moses explained to Gov.-Elect Warren Knowles in a review of the institution's budget request that it is one of the unique facilities of its kind operated by the states of the country. A building expansion and modernization program is now underway. There is every assurance that this service to elderly and incapacitated veterans and their dependents will be continued indefinitely.

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Jan. 12, 1965.

Our member of the assembly-elect in a brand new hat and toggery, left for Madison on Monday. He says in his paper: (the man referred to was Sam Ryan and the newspaper the Motor's Democratic opposition, The Appleton Crescent.)

"When it comes to measures of taxation to support soldier's families, widows and orphans, and to provide bounties to men to carry on the war, no doubt the General, (meaning Gen. Starks of Sauk County) will stand shoulder to shoulder with the Major!"

-In what attitude, Major? In persistent opposition thereto?

The above fails to inform us if you continue on the track you pursued during the late canvass. "The war being a failure," how can it be otherwise than opposition, unless, the canvass being ended, you have changed your policy and deserted the platform upon which you were elected, and now proceed to the grinding of some other ax?

Costs Per Pupil Not Total Answer in Judging Schools

Editor, Post-Crescent.

I was home from Stevens Point University last weekend and read with some alarm your People's Forum column captioned "Stockbridge Example of What It Costs to Build Own School" written by Mr. F. C. Hervey.

Mr. Hervey, you recommend looking around a bit. I did. I found all the information you claimed needed a subpoena in one-half hour. You shocked me, Mr. Hervey. I feel you are a knowledgeable fellow. You write well. Your arithmetic in figuring the cost per high school pupil in Stockbridge is close. I have no quarrel with the high school cost per pupil.

What alarms me and truly frightens me, sir, is your motive in giving yourself such a loophole when you quote figures for publication and then hide behind an, "If I am not mistaken." Surely, you are right or you are wrong. And then you blissfully go right on aid quote a ridiculous amount "around $250.00 per pupil," in other schools in this area. You surely must know that nowhere in the State of Wisconsin is there any school operating at such a low cost which I will show later.

I learned way back in my Stockbridge math courses that when a person quotes a statistic, upon which you base a just judgment, all figures have to be accurate or your whole answer is false. Your article points to some ability in gathering information. Why did you stop investigating? Again, what was your motive? Our principal would have gladly furnished you with reliable information on Stockbridge and also on the entire state had you had the courtesy to see him. If he hadn't been available the county superintendent at Chilton could have helped you. You could also have gotten any information from the state superintendent.

Public school costs are public information open to anyone. You would have learned that had you received your civics instruction from my dad at Stockbridge. Why the statement, "I could locate no information without a subpoena for cost per pupil." Why the untruth?

I turned to our principal's copy of Research Bulletin published by the Wisconsin Education Association and I quote from it with their permission. I will list the lowest and highest cost in city and villages per high school pupil and also the average cost per pupil. You will see that Stockbridge compares favorably with the state average cost per pupil being a little lower than Wisconsin cities' average cost.

On page 2 bulletin 63-3 shows the last time the city systems approached an average cost per pupil of $250 was in 1952-1953 when it was $254.06.

Again, I must come back and wonder what was your motive in clouding an issue. You see why I am frightened when confronted with the sheer lack of ethics evidenced in your article.

Wisconsin Education Association secures its information from the Annual Report, audited by certified public accountants, sent annually to the state superintendent's office. The above bulletin is free to members of the association. A copy is in your public high school. They can be bought for a nominal fee from the

Wisconsin Education Assn. 404 Insurance Building Madison, Wisconsin
The 1964-1964 bulletins should be ready around February or March of 1965.

You readers have borne with me this long. I will quote from the Research Bulletin on page 1. "Caution must be used in comparing costs included in this study. Costs should be related to the depth and quality of a program. A district providing school lunch or health program would have a higher cost per pupil than a district without these programs. A district with multiple units would have a higher operation and maintenance cost than one without multiple units. A district with a teaching staff of long local service would have a higher instruction cost than a district with a teaching staff of short local tenure, etc." The article continues explaining causes of differences in costs.

In a school our size we are not discouragingly competitive. We are not eliminated in early try outs. Those who need to learn most are not dropped before an activity is begun. Who needs sports? The beautiful, well built, coordinated body or the person who will benefit by more exercise, or benefit by group participation? Who needs to be in a play? The perfectly poised young person or the person needing to cultivate assurance? In a large system who participates? Those who show early know how—the rest are bystanders. In a small system all persons willing to assume responsibility are needed, all benefit through experience.

Math is my major and Chemistry is my brother's at Stevens Point. We haven't found our training at Stockbridge a deterrent at school. We learned to work; we couldn't bluff we couldn't coast on yesterday's good recitation; our turn to be called upon came regularly several times over and over within a single hour. In a small class your turn at answering comes often and if you have any pride you are too ashamed to be unprepared or rely on wind jamming.

I am sure there are many capable people in Little Chute who know how to go about finding reliable facts. The question is—are you getting what you want? What is your teacher-pupil ratio? Are the rank and file (not only the exceptionally talented) of your children now participating adequately in extra curricular activities where they are learning to work together as a team? Do your courses in humanities stress ethics, social values, human values or are they just drill and skill courses without living values? Are there shop courses in your school that adequately accommodate all of your students who want them? Is advanced algebra, chemistry and physics only offered to the college bound student? Can all people take these courses? Those who will find their way into industry giving them a background for the trades? Are your available services adequate for a growing population?

Oh, we all benefit by the products of our peculiar culture and civilization and we have to pay taxes to carry that culture to our next generation wherever we live. Every school has problems special to its community. I am sure Little Chute has realistic people, competent people who will not base their conclusions on 1952-1953 costs.

State Votes May Well Go Against Burch at National GOP Meet

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON—If National Republican Chairman Dean Burch walked into a typical Wisconsin county Republican caucus without announcing himself, it is extremely doubtful that he would be recognized by the presiding officer or by the rank and file political workers present.

It is in the fact that Burch has no personal stature or following, and represents only the image of the defeated Goldwater candidacy, that his position is probably fatally weak, in the representative Wisconsin party perspective.

Wyngaard

Thus it would surprise very few of the high ranking Wisconsin party people and startle none if the National Republican Committee decided at its January meeting to ask for his resignation with a solid majority vote and to turn over the management of the national party headquarters to such a seasoned and practiced hand as Ray Bliss of Ohio or any one of several other potential successors already mentioned.

THE VIEW

Normally Wisconsin Republicans would be largely indifferent to Burch's troubles, or inclined to support him against the obviously organized attack of some of the Eastern liberals and "moderates," so-called.

The Wisconsin party is in no way dependent upon the national committee, either in professional assistance or financing Wisconsin, in fact, has been sending far more money into the national party coffers for many years than the national committee has returned in the form of contributions to congressional and senatorial nominees, for example.

The problem is one of imagery, the public spectacle of deadly interparty quarreling that probably cannot be avoided as long as Goldwater's man remains at the nominal command post in Washington, and that will serve to remind the electorate of the classically ineffectual campaign effort of the party last summer and fall.

Little has been said about it, but the memory of that November debacle has burned more deeply into the minds of Wisconsin Republicans than in some other parts of the country. For the Wisconsin margin of Goldwater defeat, to the total astonishment of Wisconsin politicians, was even greater than it was in the country as a whole and the national margin represented an all-time record.

CRUEL RULES

There are times when the football coach must be replaced, quite without regard to his technical merits. The situation demands a change. The alumni are restive. The student body is threatening to revolt. The comparison can be carried too far, but Burch today appears to be the victim of similar circumstances.

The rules of politics are harsh, sometimes even cruel.

Burch may be a nice fellow. Undoubtedly he is. But scarcely anybody in the party knows him, except as the personal agent of a presidential candidate who lost by such a margin that it will require some additional months for the shudders in the Republican precinct machinery here and elsewhere to subside.

Wisconsin will have three votes at the January meeting when the national party committee will decide whether Burch will be sacrificed to the need for a new public posture and new leadership in the job of reconstruction against the congressional elections of 1966.

Two of those votes will be held by Chairman Talbot Peterson of Appleton and National Committeewoman Mary Ising of Oshkosh, both of whom wanted Goldwater for the nomination but who have said nothing since to indicate that their allegiance remains with that defeated cause. National Committeeman Robert Pierce has already indicated his doubt that Burch can survive.

What's Wrong With Snake as House Pet?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

I once heard a woman say that she rejected the story of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden because the snake was in the picture. "No woman," she said "would ever have listened to a snake. She would have screamed and run!"

Harris

Whatever the value of her unique contribution to Old Testament exegesis, it does seem to be true that (at least since the first encounter) women and snakes do not make a chummy combination. There is, shall we say, a certain warmth lacking in the relationship.

A 9-year-old boy I know brought home a garter snake a few days ago—a pleasant, harmless creature of impeccable habits, not one-hundredth the trouble of the amiably idiotic dog the family has harbored for a lifetime.

Well, the women in the house reacted as if a battalion of puff adders had invaded a nursery. All the lad wanted to do was stick the snake in his terrarium and feed it live tadpoles every few days—a fine testimony to his wholesome scientific spirit of inquiry.

Not to go into the squalid details, it took hours of pleading, promises, argu-nents, and even a few not-too-veiled threats ("Perhaps a urantula would be more acceptable?") to obtain permission for the snake's temporary—every temporary—residence in the terrarium.

Sad to relate, the snake escaped the following day, while the boy was at school, and slithered around the floors, looking only for good fellowship and a little bit of innocent fun. But the household was totally immobilized for a few hours, until the boy arrived home and calmly picked it up and hurled it back into the terrarium.

That was, of course, the end. Nothing helped—love, tears, solemn vows. The snake had to go. At one point, the boy held it out to his mother, saying "Just hold it for a minute, Ma. You'll see it's quite nice and not even slimy. I'm sure you'll get to like it."

Get to like it? A woman could no more get to like a snake than the B'Nai B'Rith would award a posthumous Medal of Merit to Adolph Hitler. Rationally speaking, the boy was right—a snake is dry, clean, and non-belligerent. But what women react to is the symbolism of the snake, not its reality—a subject best left to the clinical files of the Freudians.

At any rate, the whole point of this little excursion into herpetology is that the 9-year-old is now a sadder but wiser little man today. He knows that nothing will avail against the force of a woman's instincts and aversions, and has learned the first lesson in philosophy: a snake in the grass is worth two in the terrarium.

ers, loggers and their families — were marooned in several communities along the Klamath and Salmon rivers at the northern tip of California.

"They're beginning to run short of food," reported William Sowle, Civil Defense director at Yreka. A storm that dropped two feet of snow on Yreka Sunday halted helicopter flights in the area. The prediction was for continued snow today.

"We'll have to airlift supplies or evacuate soon," Sowle said. He called those isolated in the mountainous, heavily wooded country "a pretty hardy lot."

About 100 passengers on two Greyhound buses found themselves stranded by highway washouts last Monday after a lunch stop at the Terrace Gardens resort 10 miles south of Garberville on U.S. 101 in California's Humboldt County and about half of them still were awaiting rescue today.

Cramped Quarters
Some walked or were lifted by helicopters to Garberville and others were flown to Eureka farther north. Those who stayed spent Christmas crowded into the resort's motel quarters.

"We were a little cramped," said Bill Flynn, a Greyhound representative who was among the marooned, "and while we weren't starving there was only enough food for us to eat twice a day — at 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. We didn't get fat."

Food shortage was the problem throughout the northwestern corner of California. Slick Airways has flown 120,000 pounds of foodstuffs to Eureka and scheduled another flight today with 200,000 pounds aboard a Constellation.

Supply Planes

Six C119 cargo planes were to fly today from McClellan Air Force Base near Sacramento to Arcata near Eureka with 21,000 pounds of telephone repair equipment, three fire trucks and four utility vehicles.

Pacific Telephone said its facilities in Northern California were damaged to the extent of almost $1 million during the Christmas week storm. It had about 550 repairmen at work on the 24-hour-a-day job of restoring telephone communications.

In Del Norte County at the north end of the 1,200-mile-long California coast about 3,000 persons either lost their homes completely or sustained major damage. Red Cross representative Karl Mahler reported. The relief agency moved a majority to emergency shelters, but many persons chose to stick it out in their damaged homes. Mahler said.

Some Reluctant
"We're sending in meals," he said. The reluctant ones may yet have to move out. "They have no good drinking water, no sanitation, no heat."

In Oregon the State Board of Health began getting queries on how to prevent typhoid fever. The board said it had plenty of vaccine on hand. The Oregon State Police reported their operations had returned to normal.

One of the closing rescue operations in Idaho was the airlift of 31 persons from a remote sawmill in mountains 70 miles southeast of Boise.

The management of the mill sponsored the lift after the road to the mill became blocked by more than 20 slides. The sawmill families were taken to Boise where most have relatives.

A two-foot snowfall in the Sierra eased the flood threat to Reno for now but posed another for the future. When it eventually melts the snow water will pour down the Truckee toward Reno. Reservoirs along the river, which caught and held a runoff, were being emptied preparatory to the runoff.

Senator Says U. S. Will Win In Viet Nam

Moroney Calls Quitting Battle 'Act of Idiocy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. A. S. Mike Moroney, D-Okla., believes the United States eventually will win the war in Viet Nam and that abandoning it "would be an act of idiocy."

He did not estimate how long the war would last but at one point he said 20 or 30 years meant little to the Communists. Moroney, who has just completed a three-week Asian tour, was interviewed Sunday night on the CBS radio and television program, "Face the Nation."

Urge Cease-Fire
Meanwhile, 105 Washington area clergymen and religious leaders revealed that they had sent a petition to President Johnson urging an immediate cease-fire and a negotiated political settlement in South Viet Nam.

Another Democratic senator, Frank Church of Idaho, said in an interview with Ramparts magazine that the United States should have limited its military intervention in Asia to the island chain off the continent. In the interview published Saturday, Church said the United States should have stayed out of the Vietnamese war.

Church said the Viet Nam war could be won but that this would require a joint military venture in Laos to seal off South Viet Nam.

"antipoverty program," whether to propose a pay increase for government civilian workers and the amount of an education package.

In a letter to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara released for publication Sunday, Johnson said he wanted the last vestige of racial discrimination ended in the armed forces.

Excellent Job
He told McNamara the Defense Department has "done an excellent job in resolving many aspects of the general problem of discriminatory treatment of those in the armed forces," but added.

"I would hope that the momentum already achieved would continue until every last vestige of the problem is eliminated."

Johnson wrote McNamara in connection with the filing of a final report by the President's Commission on Equal Opportunity in the Armed Forces. The six-member committee, headed by Gerhard A. Gesell, Washington attorney, dealt with discrimination in facilities near overseas bases and in the National Guard.

The committee said progress has been made in integration of national Guards units, but much remains to be done.

The committee described racial discrimination in "public accommodations and housing near bases as 'particularly barn.

The barn is 400 feet from the acute in Germany and certain areas of the Far East." It said commanders should take vigorous action to eliminate patterns of segregation and discrimination affecting troops off base.

Johnson attended services Sunday in St. Barnabas Episcopal church in Fredericksburg. He was accompanied by Mrs. Johnson and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Birge Alexander of Fort Worth, Tex.

After the services they visited the graves of Joseph W. and Ruth A. Baines, the President's maternal grandparents, in the Fredericksburg community cemetery.

Late Saturday Johnson slipped away from his ranch to attend funeral services for R. S. Chambers, 80, in Mart, a central Texas town of 2,500. Chambers had been a Democratic party worker.

3 Appointments
Over the weekend, Johnson filled three major government jobs. 1. James S. Gleason Jr., resigned as administrator of veterans affairs to return to the First National Bank in Chicago as first vice president. Johnson named William J. Driver to succeed him.

Driver, 45, has been deputy administrator of the VA and becomes the first career worker to hold the post.

2. Joseph P. McMurray resigned as chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to become President of Queens College in New York. Johnson named John E. Horne, a member of the board for the past 18 months, to succeed McMurray. Horne formerly headed the Small Business Administration.

3. John A. Carver Jr. of Boise, Idaho, got a recess appointment as undersecretary of interior. Carver has been assistant secretary since Jan. 30, 1961. As undersecretary he succeeds James K. Carr, who resigned last July 15.

Congressman Asks Budget Form Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D - Wis., says the public should be given a business-like presentation of the federal budget to distinguish between current expenses and capital investment.

"The present method," he said, "which lumps spending on scratch pads with spending on hydroelectric dams, misinterprets and distorts the federal government's activities."

Reuss, a member of the Senate-House Joint Economic Committee, said he would urge the committee to request that the Budget Bureau change to a capital budget system.

Veteran Pilot's Body Found After Crash

WINONA, Minn. (AP) — The body of veteran pilot was found in the wreckage of his light plane Saturday about nine miles northwest of La Crosse, Wis., where he sought to land last Wednesday.

Cal Brown, about 40, of Rosemont, Ill., was killed when his single engine plane apparently hit a small knoll, bounced about 100 yards and plowed into a gully near Nodine in the southern part of Winona County.

A Civil Air Patrol plane spotted the wreckage shortly after the air search began. Brown had not been heard from since mid-afternoon last Wednesday, but he was not reported missing until late Christmas Day.

Brown, an electronics engineer who had logged more than 1,000 hours as a pilot, took off from Roselle, Ill., on a Christmas flight to St. Cloud, Minn. A short time later, he radioed the La Crosse airport reporting instrument failure and requesting landing instructions. Because of adverse weather conditions in the La Crosse area, he was advised to turn back to Rockford, Ill.

Rebellion in Congo Is a War Without Mercy on Either Side

Weekends Off for Soldiers Typical of Bizarre Conflict

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The thin young man in the swimming trunks wore a jeweled crucifix.

"Are you religious?"

"Not particularly," he said.

"Why the crucifix?"

"Oh, that. I took it from a rebel who no longer needed it," the young man said. "He came at me from about 15 yards with a Mauser I fired at his head with an automatic rifle. It was hard to miss. In a manner of speaking, you might say I ventilated his think box."

The young man gave his name as Leonard Woods, 22, of Johannesburg, South Africa, former occupation, pipefitter; present occupation, white mercenary.

No Raping

"When we were going into Stanleyville," said another young man with an Ivy League cut and the earnest look of a divinity student, "the major told us there would be no looting or raping, that we could get shot for either."

He paused, watching a girl in a bikini go by.

"There was nothing worth raping," he said with a small smile.

The second young man gave his name as Lance Fin Mills, 27, also of Johannesburg, also a mercenary. We were sitting at the side of a swimming pool at the Funa Club in Leopoldville, during an incongruous pause in an incongruous war.

Some 700 miles to the east, in the equatorial rain forests of the Congo the war was still going on, still borrowing a little from the centuries of man.

Torture Captives

It is a war where neither side takes prisoners for long, where both rebel and Congolese government toots torture captives, where thousands of blacks caught up in a century they never made have been killed, their bodies rotting in the tall elephant grass or left to the mercies of the crocodiles in the muddy rivers.

It is a war where rebels have practiced cannibalism beyond human comprehension, where they have marched down a town street with the organs and blood of their victims on their hands, while a police band played. It is a war where old planes on loan from the United States, flown by contract Cuban pilots, attack with rockets and, down below on the side of a dusty road, a rebel group counterattacks by stirring up a hornet's nest, convinced that one wicked creature can bring down another.

It is a war where the looting is prodigious on both sides, where there are no immutable realities where Mosé Tshombe now heads the central government, he fought more than two years where a government soldier deserts, joins the rebels, later returns the government army, demanding — and receiving — retroactive pay for his desertion time.

Defenders Scared

It is a war where there are a city of 500,000, 100 to 100 rebels in six trucks, where other towns tell as the result of a telephone call which scared off the defenders. It is a war where the rebels began with spears and knives, convinced their "magic" made them immune to bullets; where they now fight with captured government weapons and some rifles from Algeria and Red China.

Black Men

It is a war where black men on both sides know little of their weapons and the rifles of the said, with their eyes closed, a war where a handful of white mercenaries — 500 at best, stronger — have made the difference as far as driving the rebels in the forefront. It is a war where human sensibility is at best relaxed, where hard-core some young white men, brutalized by life in a brutal combat, come from South Africa, Rhodesia and Kenya to hunt for the Congolese money and adventure.

It is a war where young white men as pleasant-looking as those at the swimming club in Leopoldville have been known to take their sport and target practice by firing at and killing some of the black bodies floating down the river.

Club On Sunday

It was Sunday at the Funa Club and rock in roll music thundered from the loudspeaker. The mercenaries with police records remain.

"I know one South African called Frenchie," said Leonard Woods. "I'd bet he has killed 300 blacks himself. He just opens up with a machine gun from an armored car. I've seen him laughing when he does it."

"I don't think much about the killing," said Allen Webster, another South African. And then he and his friends told this story:

They were drinking beer in a Stanleyville hotel room when they heard a thump overhead. It was a sniper who had fallen through the thin asbestos roof. They heard him running on the ceiling and they followed the sounds from room to room until they finally got him with several machinegun bursts.

He fell through the ceiling, dead at their feet with six holes in him. They carried the body out of the hotel, dumped it in the bush, returned, washed the blood off their hands, and resumed drinking beer.

Arrest Actor After Bystander Shot by Police

Jobless Thespian Was Target of Gunfire in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A jobless actor, target of a policeman's bullet that went astray and killed a bystander, was arrested six hours after the car he was driving dragged the officer almost a block near the Empire State Building.

The actor, Edward Seamon, 32, of Manhattan, was freed on $1,000 bail Sunday at his arraignment on charges of felonious assault and leaving the scene of an accident.

Julius Ofsie 64, of Brooklyn, was killed Saturday by a bullet fired by Patrolman Patrick Crowe at the fleeing auto driven by Seamon.

Seamon was arrested early Sunday after the owner of the car, Lent Lendry, 34, who had been in the vehicle, heard a radio broadcast about it and, on the advice of her attorney, called police.

Seamon was picked up at a Greenwich Village party where he and Mrs. Lendry had gone. No action was taken against her, and a second passenger in the car.

The incident occurred while a Crowe was detouring traffic from the vicinity of the Empire State Building on a false report there was a fire in the 102-story broadcast monitored here, is a structure.

Seamon got into an argument with the patrolman and was ordered to pull over to the curb before he finally pulled free.

Crowe then "fired two times in the air and two times at the car," he said. One bullet struck into the car to take the ignition key but Seamon sped off, dragging the officer almost a block Street.

Family of Five Dies in Crash

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — A family of five was killed Sunday night when their small plane crashed into redwood trees in the rugged Santa Cruz Mountains 65 miles south of San Francisco.

The victims, of San Mateo, Calif., were identified as Lee R. Smith, 32, the pilot, and his wife, Louise, 28, and their children Kim, 6, Cherie, 4, and Stephen, 2.

Witnesses said all five were hurled from the single-engine plane when it hit the ground.
